Lumumba Wants To Be U.S. Friend

Turns Flirtation From Reds, Hunts American Money

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba turned from his flirtation with the Soviet Union and took off Friday for the United States and Canada in search of capital for the Congo's crippled economy. He said he wants to be friends with everybody.

Lumumba abandoned his threat to call in Soviet soldiers to force out Belgian soldiers. He told a news conference in this United Nations-guarded capital there is no longer any need for Soviet military intervention.

LANKY

The lanky Congolese leader, who only a few days ago was calling Western nations imperialist and issuing ultimatums to the United Nations, signed one agreement with an American financier for development of mineral and power resources of the former colony Belgium freed June 30.

Lumumba also held out a hand to the Belgians. He gave the Belgians credit for helping to build the Congo and said he considers them "our friends."

He insisted only that Belgian soldiers evacuate the Congo, including the treaty bases of Kamina and Kitona, and that Belgian Ambassador Baron Jean van Denbosche leave the country immediately.

Pair Denies Responsible In Slowdown

The heads of two Monroe departments denied yesterday that any of their lines were in any way responsible for the delays in the work along DeSiard Street.

The denials came from French Smith, general manager of the Utilities Commission, and John Renaud, head of the sewer department.

Both said their work along the 12 - block portion of DeSiard street, which has been torn up for five weeks, had been done well in advance of the stalemate this week.

FIRST CHARGE

The denials followed a statement earlier this week that the contracting firm had not been able too continue with their work in widening and paving the street because of the underground work for pipes.

When contacted, Renaud said no sewer pipes from Elysian Fields to 18th street were to be installed or replaced. However, he said as the work progressed, some replacement may be necessary should present pipes be broken or damaged.

"As it now stands, I don't know of any work required of this department," he stated.

French Smith said the Utilities Commission had removed the electrical lines along the road last winter. In fact, he said the completion date for this particular project was in January of this year.

Referring to the water lines, Smith said some 3100 feet of eight - inch pipe has been laid from Ninth street to Young's Bayou. However, the pipe cannot be installed over the bayou, one

U.S. Tells Reds To Free Survivors In Downed Plane

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States said Friday an RB-47 bomber downed by Russia was 50 miles off the Soviet coast when jumped by Soviet fighters and demanded that Moscow promptly release the two surviving members of its crew.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov demanded that the council condemn the United States for "aggression" in sending the plane on its ill-fated flight over the Barents Sea July 1.

LODGE SPEAKS

Lodge labelled as an "unconvincing but sinister fabrication" Kuznetsov's statement that the RB-47 was downed over Soviet territorial waters and told six grieving wives of the plane's crew members, seated in the Security Council public gallery, "They won't get away with it."

Lodge said Kuznetsov's 63-minute presentation of Russia's case was "a pretty revolting bit of hypocrisy" and asked permission to reply to it Monday.

The council, fatigued from five consecutive days of sitting, with three sessions lasting well past midnight, on Cuba's economic aggression charge against the United States and the crisis in the Congo, then adjourned until Monday morning.

Lodge said the RB-47 Actually was 50 miles off the Soviet coast when it was attacked and "it was still in the air 20 minutes later

Republican Rockefeller Unsatisfied

More Cold Water Dashed On Hopes He May Campaign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller dashed more cold water Friday on the hopes of those Republican party leaders who would like to see him run for vice president.

The New Yorker let it be known in Chicago that he's not happy with the platform being put together for the coming campaign.

Some top GOP leaders have been predicting the platform would be so close to Rockefeller's wishes that he could be induced to take second place on a ticket headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

JAR LEADERS

But Rockefeller's press secretary, George L. McManus, jarred those leaders by reporting the governor is "deeply concerned" over some of the planks being considered for the GOP platform.

McManus said Rockerfeller feels the proposed drafts on national defense, foreign policy and some critical domestic issues "are still seriously lacking in strength and specifics."

Nixon's aides have already made it clear the vice president's views will be represented in every plank of the platform. Rockefeller's pronounced displeasure with the form the platform is taking could put an end to all the talk that he might accept the

Cuba, China Move Toward Trade Pact

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba and Red China appeared near agreement Friday on terms of a trade pact binding this island's economy more firmly to the Communist bloc.

Moscow radio was quoted by a Tokyo news agency as saying Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government will soon sign a 70-million-dollar agreement to supply Communist China with sugar, nickel, and copper in exchange for industrial products, agricultural machinery, textiles and rice.

DEALS

Government-controlled papers here made no mention of any progress on talks now going on between Chinese Vice Minister of Commerce Lu Shu-chang and Maj. Ernesto Guevara, leftist president of the Cuban National Bank. But signing of the agreement could come at any time.

In recent trade deals the Castro government adopted the Kremlin policy of maintaining complete secrecy until the pacts were signed.

AGAINST HUSBANDS

Six Young Wives Hear Spy Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Six young American wives, cast suddenly into the confusions of international affairs, sat impassively Friday and heard their husbands called spies engaged on a criminal mission.

The women were the wives of the crew of the RB-47 bomber shot down just three weeks ago near the Soviet Union.

Vasily V. Kuznetsov, a Soviet deputy foreign minister, told the U. N. Security Council: "American airmen are being sacrificed to the aggressive policy (of the United States) one after another, and when the sponsors of the flights are caught red-handed, they attempt to display pharisaical concern for the fate of these airmen shedding crocodile tears in the process."

The women shook their heads and tightened their mouths.

They were tired and they showed the strain.

They had been listening to the Soviet diplomat for more than an hour. Before that they stood under bright TV lights and answered newsmen's questions.

Then they went to a small lounge off the Council chamber for coffee. Finally someone told them it was time to go.

"First here, then there, can't we get settled?" one of the women said to another.

They were taken into the Security Council where they sat in the front row of the spectators gallery, wearing bright summer dresses. Flashbulbs blinked, and, one by one, they shook hands with U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Three of the women had come

18 Reported Dead In Fight Lasting About Three Hours

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Air-borne Belgian troops and Congolese mutineers fought a pitched battle near a Katanga mining center Friday.

A Belgian spokesman said about 16 Congolese were killed and many wounded. The Belgian army gave its casualties as two dead and six wounded, but an army doctor said a third soldier died in the hospital.

ATTEMPT PARLEY

Also in the hospital, the doctor said, were two Belgian noncommissioned officers who attempted to parley with the rebels and were badly beaten up.

The battle, which lasted about three hours, took place at the Force Publique Congolese army barracks outside Klwezi mining center in Katanga province, which last week broke away from Congo to become a self - proclaimed independent republic.

Platoon and company commanders of the Belgian grenadiers who took part in the battle described it as "tough." Eight platoons were used in attacking the barracks, supported by four rocket - firing planes.

These platoons - about 260 men all told - flew the 100 miles from Elisabethville to attack about 250 mutineers holding out in barracks 20 miles outside Kolwezi.

Belgian soldiers surrounded the barracks Thursday night and the commanding officer tried to talk the Africans into surrendering, but he failed. Other attempts were made, then Congolese opened fire.

Belgians returned it, called for air support and as planes fired rockets, Belgians moved in and captured some of the buildings. They used hand grenades and rifles but the Africans hung on tenaciously. "They fought bravely and their aim was pretty accurate," one Belgian officer said.

Then the Belgians occupied the whole barracks. About 200 Africans were taken prisoner but some escaped.

Health Service Notes Big Hike In Polio Cases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Public Health Service reported a "sharp increase" Friday in polio cases. Outbreaks of the crippling disease were concentrated in Rhode Island and California.

A total of 95 new cases, 69 of them paralytic, were reported last week, bringing this year's nationwide number to 621.

The Public Health Service's weekly report also showed 19 new cases in Puerto Rico. So far this year, the island has had 311 cases, slightly more than half the total number reported for the entire continental United States.

EMERGENCY MEASURES

Rhode Island had 24 new cases with most of them in the metropolitan Providence area where local and federal health officials were taking emergency measures to deal with the situation. So far this year, the state has had 57 cases compared to two for the same period in 1959.

The California outbreak was concentrated in Los Angeles and San Diego. The state reported 12 new cases last week bringing its total for this year to 150. Last year at this time, it had 117 cases.

In both states, polio struck hardest at children under 10 years old. The great majority of those afflicted received no polio vaccine.

Even so, the national incidence of polio was still far below the toll reported at this time last year. During the same week last year, 255 cases were reported, 169 of them paralytic.

Forest Fires Are Worst In Thirty Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four airmen died in flaming plane crashes Friday while helping thousands of ground fighters battle the worst forest fires in 30 years in nine Western states.

Tragedy befell two converted B25 bombers—among many pouring fire-retarding borate solution just ahead of roaring flames. One crashed in eastern Oregon, the other in southern California.

Highly trained U. S. Forest Service experts sped by plane from the eastern, southern and lake regions of the United States to help direct weary ground crews, some on the lines for a week.

"These men are not just fire fighters but trained supervisory personnel, equivalent perhaps to platoon, company and division infantry officers," explained Bert E. Holtby, fire chief of the service's eastern region at Upper Darby, Pa.

Spreading fires, many lightning-set, blackened some 200,000 acres in California, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming and Arizona. In Idaho, the FBI investigated the possibility of arson.

More than 300 fires were battled by 3,000 men in British Columbia. The worst was a 13,000-acre fire along Spius Creek.

Drug Control Move Is Made By Government

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government acted Friday to tighten federal control of the drug industry with strict new regulations for labeling prescription drugs.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) proposed new regulations embodying "sweeping changes" in its labeling requirements. The agency said this was done to "correct a tendency on the part of some manufacturers to describe to physicians the merits of a drug without giving information regarding its hazards."

REGULATIONS

The proposed regulations were published in Friday's federal register. Interested persons were invited to comment on them within 60 days. After that, the FDA would issue a final order which "might be modified on the basis of the comment," a spokesman said.

1,000 Lamas Starved By Reds, Refugee Claims

KATMANDU, Npeal (AP) — A refugee lama charged Friday Red Chinese have starved more than 1,000 lamas to death in a concentration camp as an object lesson in their campaign to quell all resistance in Tibet.

Lamas are Buddhist monks held in special regard in the mountain kingdom because of their wisdom and saintliness.

Thundus Tembush, head lama at Nyasyang monastery, said the starvation occurred last winter at a Chinese-run camp 60 miles north west of Lhasa, the capital.

IN ONE CAMP

Tembush gave newsmen this account: After the Tibetan revolt, and the flight of the Dalai Lama to India, the Red Chinese rounded up 4,000 lamas and put them all in the one camp.

Besides daily brainwashings, the lamas were whipped to do manual labor, to build roads and airports to serve Peiping's colonization plans.

If anyone refused or failed because of exhaustion, he was tortured and later starved to death.

A sudden climax was reached early in March when the bodies of 1,000 lamas were thrown out after a month-long starvation.

Surviving lamas revolted and killed most of the Chinese guards. At least 2,000 escaped into Himalayan hideouts.

Works On Flea Map Of United Kingdom

LONDON (AP)—The thought of a flea makes Robert George itch —itch to get his hands on it.

Of all the strange hobbies in these misty isles, George's is among the strangest.

He is working on a flea map of the United Kingdom.

When finished it will show what kind of a flea a British subject is likely to find by scratching around in his old home town. So far George has catalogued and bottled nearly 60,000 of the wingless jumpers. By profession, he's a school teacher. He's compiling his flea map in his spare time.

"The fact that fleas are not generally popular," he said in an interview, "gives me a chance to find out lots of new things and bits about them with comparative ease. With bees and butterflies, so many people are interested that it's practically impossible to find out anything original."

He said the world knows far less about fleas than it does about the birds and bees.

Up to now he's discovered that Britain has 61 varities of fleas. He's recorded specimens from 37 countries, but they've fallen into 10 large varieties.

Helping him with his flea map are 70 operatives spread around the country. Only recently one of them was sitting under a tree in Surrey when a flea hopped into his lap. He caught it and mailed it to the school teacher.

"That became the first cat flea ever found in Surrey," said George.

U.S. Tells Reds To Free Survivors In Downed Plane

200 miles from the point alleged by the Soviet Union ... at no time was it closer than 30 miles to the Soviet Coast, and that's the truth."

Experts speculated that Washington might have to disclose some of its dearest secrets to prove how the United States knew these things for a certainty.

Lodge noted that the United States had asked for the release of Lt. John Richard McCone of Tonganoxie, Kans., navigator of the RB-47, and Lt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., its co-pilot. Kuznetsov reiterated Moscow's determination to try them with "full severeity of Soviet law."

"I again appeal to the Soviet Union to release these men promptly," Lodge said. "Until they were captured, they had not entered the Soviet Union or Soviet territorial waters."

Kuznetsov, contending that the United States "creates a threat to universal peace," told the council as it opened debate on the issue that the six-jet plane might have been engaged in collecting electro-magnetic data on arctic conditions. These, he said, might be of advantage to submarine - based Polaris nuclear missiles in possible operation against Russia.

Kuznetsov, reflecting the Kremlin campaign to talk the American U-2 spy plane incident to greatest advantage, sought to tie the RB-47 incident closely to the U-2 plane shot down over Russia May 1.

He said the RB-47 was proof that President Eisenhower's pledge last May 17 that U-2 spy plane flights had been stopped was worthless.

He said the survivors of the RB-47, 1st. Lt. John McCone of Tonganoxie, Kan., and 1st Lt. Freeman Olmstead of Elmira, N. Y.: had confessed they were under radio silence from the moment they took off from their base at Brize - Norton, England until they were downed.

He challenged the United States to say, in view of this, how it could say definitely where the plane was when it was attacked and brought down.

Kuznetsov filed a brief resolution of less than 100 words calling on the council to condemn the United States, and "the continuing provocative actions by the U.S. Air Force." Then he went into a 65-minute attack on the United States.

Reps. F. Edward Hebert, T. Hale Boggs, Overton Brooks, James Morrison and Otto Passman are unopposed in the primary, but all will face Republican opposition in the November general election.

The state's 8,500 registered Republicans will also hold a primary Saturday to determine who will oppose Sen. Allen Ellender in November. William Dane and George Reese Jr., both of New Orleans, are competing for the nomination.

The campaigns have been something less than expected, particularly in the Eighth where Long was expected to have waged a lively stumping tour. But the usually fiery Long has been quiet although he bitterly opposed McSween's election two years ago and broke off relations with Holt, one of his floor leaders in the Legislature, where Holt opposed Long's plan for a special session.

The Eighth District was the only one Long carried when he ran for lieutenant governor.

In addition, there is one democratic race for the State Supreme Court, as well as a public service commission contest between incumbent John McKeithen of Columbia faces L. S. Hooper of Shreveport, and several races for state board of education berths.

There are also races for 12 of the state's 31 district attorney posts and 19 of the state's judgeships are up for decision.

Baton Rouge police chief Shirley Arrighi decided to assign a policeman to each of the city's 53 precincts to enforce a new state law against electioneering within 300 feet.

Officers will be stationed near the polling places, in view of another and much older law prohibiting presence of armed peace officers at voting places.

Police and sheriff's deputies originally were assigned to patrol the city and parish precincts in patrol cars.

"Upon further consideration," Arrighi said, "it was decided that the stationing of men near each precinct would be more effective."

Dear Business and Professional Men:

You have possibly learned through the press or otherwise that I am the independent non-factional candidate for Public Service Commissioner of the 3rd District, composed of 28 North Louisiana Parishes—all in the 4th, 5th, and 6th Congressional Districts, except Avoyelles in the 8th.

I am well qualified to hold the office of PSC, as I have the proper educational background, many years of practical business experience, maturity of judgement, and an earnest desire to render courteous, efficient, and honest service to you.

I would like to have a chance to visit with you during this campaign but am finding it somewhat impractical to see many of you folks without imposing upon your time, so I am taking this means of asking you for your vote and support in electing me as Public Service Commissioner on July 23rd. I am listed as No. 5. L. S. 'Buck' Hooper on the voting machine.

Sincerely yours

Sagan To Cuba

PARIS AP)—Novelist Francois Sagan is temporarily discarding her stories of young love's difficulties for a trip to Fidel Castro's Cuba as a newspaper reporter.

She is being sent by weekly L'Express, which reflects the left-wing views of former Premier Pirere Mendes-France and has viewed the trend of Castro's revolution approvingly.

COMMUTER IN A HURRY

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Goodyear got a strange phone call. A man told her he had to get to the train station in Stamford, so he had borrowed her car. Police went to the station and found the auto, undamaged, just as the man said. The caller was nowhere to be found — so police assumed he caught his train.

RESPONSE TO PLEAS

GOP Pledge To Farmers Seen

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican response to pleas from farmers for more government aid is expected to take the form of a party pledge to more than double the present land retirement program, it was reported Friday.

The plan—aimed at taking 600 million or more acres of cropland out of production and thereby better balancing farm output with demand—would boost land rental payments to about $1,200,000,000.

This wouldn't result in a net extra cost to the Treasury if the plan worked out. In theory, at least, better supply-demand balance would strengthen farm product prices and reduce the importance of controversial price supports. This would lead to savings in sum now paid for price supports and surplus crop storage.

Democrats called for higher supports in their farm plank and opposed continuing retirement of complete farms. The GOP is expected to favor retaining this feature of the soil bank program, but may reduce the present 25 per cent limit to the amount of land that may be retired in a single township.

Eight different Republican subcommittees worked Friday to put down on paper the party declarations they hope will help lead them to an election victory in November. Portions of the final platform may be unveiled this weekend but the complete product won't reach GOP convention delegates formally until next Wednesday.

The platform drafters had the difficult task of charting an acceptable course between Eisenhower administration policies, the divergent views of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, and the declarations contained in the rival Democratic platform.

Rockefeller, a possible rival of Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination, wasn't making the platform job any easier. The New Yorker said through his press aide that he was "deeply concerned" with preliminary platform drafts on a number of foreign policy and domestic problems.

The bolstered reports that Nixon forces, well in command of convention machinery, are largely calling the shots in writing the platform. Drafting subcommittees said however that both Nixon and Rockefeller are being closely consulted.

For example, Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut said he has conferred with party leaders on commerce and labor matters, such as the Rockefeller - Nixon controversy over advocating a specific economic growth rate, as advocated by the former, and Nixon's condemnation of federal "growthmanship" promotion.

"We proclaimed the virtues of growth but we didn't set any goals," Bush said, indicating a Nixon victory on this point.

The Democratic platform adopted last week at Los Angeles calls for an average growth rate of 5 per cent in the over-all economy. Rockefeller urged the GOP platform committee Tuesday to espouse a 5 to 6 per cent growth rate.

Bush's subgroup also approved platform language calling for general tax reform and "more realistic" depreciation schedules.

REVISES MEASUREMENTS

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Wally Briscoe, chairman of the Miss Pine Bluff Beauty Pageant, did a double take when he saw the reply of 21-year-old Gudron Pastetenbecker to a form query for her dimensions.

Miss Pastetenbecker, a German girl who entered the contest, replied she measured 86-57-88.

Briscoe finally discovered she was measuring in centimeters. In inches that works out to 34-22-35.

Big People Nicer, Says Hotel Maid

CHICAGO (AP) — "Big people are very much nicer than little ones."

That's the opinion of Angeline Szatkiewicz, 62, who first reported to work as a maid at the Sherator Blackstone Hotel 47 years ago.

For 17 years her assignment had included the cleaning and care of the presidential suite on the fifth floor.

She was bustling there Friday, fussing and fixing for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

When they arrive Tuesday they will find the President's signature reproduced in gold leaf on the door to the four-room apartment.

Mrs. Szatkiewicz has served the Eisenhowers and the Harry S. Trumans on a number of pleasant occasions.

Her association with top-drawer politicians has made her rather politic herself. She sees that they get the best linens and more towels. And she pays them pretty little tributes, as follows:

Mrs. Eisenhower: "A perfect lady."

Mrs. Truman: "A very quiet person but she's fine."

Mr. Eisenhower: "He hasn't much to say but he's perfect."

Mr. Truman: "He's so friendly."

What does she remember most about them.

Mayor Closes Block Until Further Notice

MERRILL, Wis. (AP)—Merrill's mayor Friday closed a block in the city's downtown business area "until further notice, for the general public's safety," after new gas leaks were reported near the site of a blast that took eight lives Monday.

Mayor Ralph Voigt acted when new gas buildups were reported by investigators despite removal of leaking mains previously located near the J. C. Penney Co. department store, which was destroyed by a shattering explosion and fire earlier in the week.

Shorty before Voigt's announcement, a hardware store had been evacuated voluntarily when gas traces were found in the basement.

Voigt said the State Crime Laboratory, State Industrial Commission and city investigators all were working to trace the new buildups, and that he had decided to close the entire block to business as a precautionary measure in this northern Wisconsin city of about 10,000.

Some living quarters also occupy space in the buildings that house 19 affected business places, but Voigt said residents could continue to use their apartments if they wished.

Thursday state investigators warned residents to maintain careful checks of possible gas accumulations in the area. Although they refused to blame gas outright for the Penney blast, I. F. Statz of the commission said, "we can assume that an accumulation of gas possible" caused the disaster, in which more than a score of persons were injured and damage of more than $500,000 was done.

Two Financiers Jailed 5 Years On Fraud Counts

LONDON (AP)—The Grunwald affair—a spectacular trial that at one stage shook the London Stock Exchange—ended Friday with two financiers jailed for five years each on fraud charges totaling 3,405,000 pounds—$9,535,400.

The jailed men were Herbert H. Murray, 67, former head of a big building society; and Friedrich Grunwald, 34, the society's solicitor and director of a string of companies.

After a five-week trial, they were found guilty of using the society's money to finance their own property deals. One deal was to take over a company owning London's Dolphin Square, which is Europe's biggest apartment block.

Signature Sets Stage For Oil Lease Money

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' signature on a 1960 bill set the stage for 1,725 heirs to share in $700,000 oil lease money.

The heirs, co-owners of the 1,218-acre tract known as Belle Isle, soon will come into possession of the money now held in escrow by the state mineral board.

They are descendants of Francois Gonsoulin, a Frenchman who came to St. Mary Parish from Normandy 200 years ago.

Senate Bill 121, sponsored by Sens. Samual Broussard and Elmore Bonin and Rep. Fred Decuir, repealed sections of a law which would have required each heir to file suit.

RE-ELECT

Walter Bennett

To School Board

Ward Five

First, let me thank you for the privilege of serving you for the past six years as your school board member from Ward Five.

When the last bond issue was voted, the people of Ward Five were promised several things, all of which they received. I am proud of having a part in seeing that these promises were carried out. During my term of office we built two entirely new school plants in Ward Five — Kiroli Elementary and West Monroe Junior High School. Ransom School was replaced by a new building; additional classrooms were built at Mitchell, Drew, Highland, and Lenwil schools.

In order to alleviate crowded conditions and provide for future growth we have purchased a 20-acre tract of land from Riser brothers in the amount of $20,000 as the site for a new elementary school in the Seigle Addition at Washington and Smith Streets. We have also purchased two additional acres of land for Claiborne School, and have provided the West Monroe High School with the best football field and stadium of any high school in this area of the state.

I have faithfully kept the promises that I made to you that I would not enter into the mechanics of the operation of any school, except to vote as a member of the board. As in the past I will continue to do my best to see that we have responsible personnel in key positions at our schools and will depend on them to run their schools or departments and be responsible to the school board as a whole rather than to any one member of the board. I have kept this promise to the letter and pledge it for my next term as your school board member from Ward Five.

I have never missed a board meeting and have never abstained from voting on any issue, thus you have always known my stand.

I am for:

A. A full school term of nine months.

B. All schools being run by trained and competent personnel and not by individual school board members.

C. A regulation track facility at the West Monroe High School stadium.

I am against:

A. A shortened school term of seven or eight months.

B. Integration at any level.

C. Federal aid to our Schools.

As a member of the Executive-Finance Committee, I can be instrumental in bringing about the above things.

In view of my past record and accomplishments I earnestly solicit your vote and support for the position of school board member from Ward Five.

U.S. Tells Reds To Free Survivors In Downed Plane

200 miles from the point alleged by the Soviet Union . . . at no time was it closer than 30 miles to the Soviet Coast, and that's the truth."

Experts speculated that Washington might have to disclose some of its dearest secrets to prove how the United States knew these things for a certainty.

Lodge noted that the United States had asked for the release of Lt. John Richard McCone of Tonganoxie, Kans., navigator of the RB-47, and Lt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., its co-pilot. Kuznetsov reiterated Moscow's determination to try them with "full severeity of Soviet law."

"I again appeal to the Soviet Union to release these men promptly," Lodge said. "Until they were captured, they had not entered the Soviet Union or Soviet territorial waters."

Kuznetsov, contending that the United States "creates a threat to universal peace," told the council as it opened debate on the issue that the six-jet plane might have been engaged in collecting electro-magnetic data on arctic conditions. These, he said, might be of advantage to submarine - based Polaris nuclear missiles in possible operation against Russia.

Kuznetsov, reflecting the Kremlin campaign to talk the American U-2 spy plane incident to greatest advantage, sought to tie the RB-47 incident closely to the U-2 plane shot down over Russia May 1.

He said the RB-47 was proof that President Eisenhower's pledge last May 17 that U-2 spy plane flights had been stopped was worthless.

He said the survivors of the RB-47, 1st. Lt. John McCone of Tonganoxie, Kan., and 1st Lt. Freeman Olmstead of Elmira, N. Y.: had confessed they were under radio silence from the moment they took off from their base at Brize - Norton, England until they were downed.

He challenged the United States to say, in view of this, how it could say definitely where the plane was when it was attacked and brought down.

Kuznetsov filed a brief resolution of less than 100 words calling on the council to condemn the United States, and "the continuing provocative actions by the U.S. Air Force." Then he went into a 65-minute attack on the United States.

Reps. F. Edward Hebert, T. Hale Boggs, Overton Brooks, James Morrison and Otto Passman are unopposed in the primary, but all will face Republican opposition in the November general election.

The state's 8,500 registered Republicans will also hold a primary Saturday to determine who will oppose Sen. Allen Ellender in November. William Dane and George Reese Jr., both of New Orleans, are competing for the nomination.

The campaigns have been something less than expected, particularly in the Eighth where Long was expected to have waged a lively stumping tour. But the usually fiery Long has been quiet although he bitterly opposed McSween's election two years ago and broke off relations with Holt, one of his floor leaders in the Legislature, where Holt opposed Long's plan for a special session.

The Eighth District was the only one Long carried when he ran for lieutenant governor.

In addition, there is one democratic race for the State Supreme Court, as well as a public service commission contest between incumbent John McKeithen of Columbia faces L. S. Hooper of Shreveport, and several races for state board of education berths.

There are also races for 12 of the state's 31 district attorney posts and 19 of the state's judgeships are up for decision.

In Baton Rouge, four Negroes are bidding for city and parish offices.

Baton Rouge police chief Shirley Arrighi decided to assign a policeman to each of the city's 53 precincts to enforce a new state law against electioneering within 300 feet.

Officers will be stationed near the polling places, in view of another and much older law prohibiting presence of armed peace officers at voting places.

Police and sheriff's deputies originally were assigned to patrol the city and parish precincts in patrol cars.

"Upon further consideration," Arrighi said, "it was decided that the stationing of men near each precinct would be more effective."

We of Ouachita parish are pleased at the excellent service that "The Boardman" renders school boards, teachers and other officials. It is published ten months of the year and keeps the public aware of what is transpiring.

Fred G. Thatcher is editor and issues the publication from the executive offices in George Peabody Hall in Baton Rouge.

Incidentally, and by way of comparison, the current issue of "The Boardman," under the heading "Elvis Is Back" states as follows: "Elvis Presley, the gyrating rock'n roller, returned to TV after a hitch in the Army is a guest star of an hour long TV program. Three such programs results in a total payment to Elvis of $125,000. He appears in three songs.

"This would take a school superintendent, making $10,000 a year would have to work years of work to earn this large sum. A teacher at $5,000 a year would have to work 25 years to earn what Elvis gets in nine minutes . . .

A party of four from here the past week had a delightful trip to New Orleans. They were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moses, skipper of the trip; Mrs. Elaine Garland and Mrs. I. Henderson.

The party left in the boat July 1 at 11:30 a.m. Their outing was made possible by a semi - enclosed runabout propelled by a 75 horsepower motor.

It was easy to make passage through the local locks and dams but when Jonesville was reached it was again not required to open the locks. When night came the party slept on the seats in the boat.

Here is the routing of the trip: Ouachita River, the Black River, Red River, Atchafalaya, the Old and thence into the Mississippi, mighty Father of Waters . Only slighly more than 24 hours were required for the trip to the Crescent City.

Allen J. Ellender in the November general elections.

Seeking the public service commission seat for the 28 - parish 3rd public service commission district is incumbent John J. McKeithen and L. S. (Buck) Hooper. McKeithen is from Columbia and Hooper lives in Shreveport.

Incumbent education board member C. Raymond Heard of Ruston faces opposition from Joe D. Waggonner Jr. of Plain Dealing.

In the Monroe city marshal's race — including wards 3 and 10 — incumbent Frank V. Reitzell is opposed by Joseph A. Battaglia. West Monroe's ward 5 marshal, Pete O. Holcomb, is opposed by Benton Henry Moore.

In the ward 5 parish school board race, incumbent Walter Bennett has three opponents, C. B. Griggs Jr., Rip D. Pipes and Fred Riser.

In ward 8, Harry Wheelis, present board member is opposed by Charles B. Griggs Sr.

Ward 9 school board member M. H. Head is opposed for his seat by Dwight E. Owens and Stannard Sweet.

In the tenth ward, two seats will be filled. Seeking the posts are incumbents J. H. Trousdale and George M. Rorex and Carl H. Thompson.

In ward 3, B. A. Tarver automatically became the nominee when no opposition filed. C. E. Buckley, incumbent, did not seek re-election.

There is a possibility of runoffs in ward 5 and ward 9 if no candidate secures a majority today. All other races will be decided in the first race.

In another development concerning today's election, the state attorney general has handed down an opinion saying that liquor stores and bars may remain open during today's voting.

Various liquor dealers had queried local authorities and the opinion was obtained. Liquor dealers claimed that the Saturday elections cut into their best business day.

In previous elections establishments selling liquor were forced to close under a state law. The attorney general's office clarified that law and said it only pertained to elections concerning gubernatorial candidates and other state officials.

That time is not here yet, however. Rep. William E. Miller (R-NY), chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, told a Chicago news conference a special committee should call on Rockefeller and "encourage" him to accept second place on the ticket.

Many political experts have reportedly been puzzled by Rockefeller's actions, but W. Averell Harriman, his predecessor as governor of New York, thinks he knows what Rockefeller is trying to do.

Then Montedoro discovered who he had rescued — the son of Patrolman Gerald Landrigan, who was walking his beat a few blocks away.

You have possibly learned through the press or otherwise that I am the independent non-factional candidate for Public Service Commissioner of the 3rd District, composed of 28 North Louisiana Parishes—all in the 4th, 5th, and 6th Congressional Districts, except Avoyelles in the 8th.

I am well qualified to hold the office of PSC, as I have the proper educational background, many years of practical business experience, maturity of judgement, and an earnest desire to render courteous, efficient, and honest service to you.

I would like to have a chance to visit with you during this campaign but am finding it somewhat impractical to see many of you folks without imposing upon your time, so I am taking this means of asking you for your vote and support in electing me as Public Service Commissioner on July 23rd. I am listed as No. 5. L. S. 'Buck' Hooper on the voting machine.

Sincerely yours

Sagan To Cuba

PARIS AP)—Novelist Francois Sagan is temporarily discarding her stories of young love's difficulties for a trip to Fidel Castro's Cuba as a newspaper reporter.

She is being sent by weekly L'Express, which reflects the left-wing views of former Premier Pirere Mendes-France and has viewed the trend of Castro's revolution approvingly.

COMMUTER IN A HURRY

DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Goodyear got a strange phone call. A man told her he had to get to the train station in Stamford, so he had borrowed her car. Police went to the station and found the auto, undamaged, just as the man said. The caller was nowhere to be found — so police assumed he caught his train.

RESPONSE TO PLEAS

GOP Pledge To Farmers Seen

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican response to pleas from farmers for more government aid is expected to take the form of a party pledge to more than double the present land retirement program, it was reported Friday.

The plan—aimed at taking 600 million or more acres of cropland out of production and thereby better balancing farm output with demand—would boost land rental payments to about $1,200,000,000.

This wouldn't result in a net extra cost to the Treasury if the plan worked out. In theory, at least, better supply-demand balance would strengthen farm product prices and reduce the importance of controversial price supports. This would lead to savings in sum now paid for price supports and surplus crop storage.

Democrats called for higher supports in their farm plank and opposed continuing retirement of complete farms. The GOP is expected to favor retaining this feature of the soil bank program, but may reduce the present 25 per cent limit to the amount of land that may be retired in a single township.

Eight different Republican subcommittees worked Friday to put down on paper the party declarations they hope will help lead them to an election victory in November. Portions of the final platform may be unveiled this weekend but the complete product won't reach GOP convention delegates formally until next Wednesday.

The platform drafters had the difficult task of charting an acceptable course between Eisenhower administration policies, the divergent views of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, and the declarations contained in the rival Democratic platform.

Rockefeller, a possible rival of Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination, wasn't making the platform job any easier. The New Yorker said through his press aide that he was "deeply concerned" with preliminary platform drafts on a number of foreign policy and domestic problems.

The bolstered reports that Nixon forces, well in command of convention machinery, are largely calling the shots in writing the platform. Drafting subcommittees said however that both Nixon and Rockefeller are being closely consulted.

For example, Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut said he has conferred with party leaders on commerce and labor matters, such as the Rockefeller - Nixon controversy over advocating a specific economic growth rate, as advocated by the former, and Nixon's condemnation of federal "growthmanship" promotion.

"We proclaimed the virtues of growth but we didn't set any goals," Bush said, indicating a Nixon victory on this point.

The Democratic platform adopted last week at Los Angeles calls for an average growth rate of 5 per cent in the over-all economy. Rockefeller urged the GOP platform committee Tuesday to espouse a 5 to 6 per cent growth rate.

Bush's subgroup also approved platform language calling for general tax reform and "more realistic" depreciation schedules.

REVISES MEASUREMENTS

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Wally Briscoe, chairman of the Miss Pine Bluff Beauty Pageant, did a double take when he saw the reply of 21-year-old Gudron Pastetenbecker to a form query for her dimensions.

Miss Pastetenbecker, a German girl who entered the contest, replied she measured 86-57-88.

Briscoe finally discovered she was measuring in centimeters. In inches that works out to 34-22-35.

Big People Nicer, Says Hotel Maid

CHICAGO (AP) — "Big people are very much nicer than little ones."

That's the opinion of Angeline Szatkiewicz, 62, who first reported to work as a maid at the Sherator Blackstone Hotel 47 years ago.

For 17 years her assignment had included the cleaning and care of the presidential suite on the fifth floor.

She was bustling there Friday, fussing and fixing for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

When they arrive Tuesday they will find the President's signature reproduced in gold leaf on the door to the four-room apartment.

Mrs. Szatkiewicz has served the Eisenhowers and the Harry S. Trumans on a number of pleasant occasions.

Her association with top-drawer politicians has made her rather politic herself. She sees that they get the best linens and more towels. And she pays them pretty little tributes, as follows:

Mrs. Eisenhower: "A perfect lady."

Mrs. Truman: "A very quiet person but she's fine."

Mr. Eisenhower: "He hasn't much to say but he's perfect."

Mr. Truman: "He's so friendly.'

What does she remember most about them.

Mayor Closes Block Until Further Notice

MERRILL, Wis. (AP)—Merrill's mayor Friday closed a block in the city's downtown business area "until further notice, for the general public's safety," after new gas leaks were reported near the site of a blast that took eight lives Monday.

Mayor Ralph Voigt acted when new gas buildups were reported by investigators despite removal of leaking mains previously located near the J. C. Penney Co. department store, which was destroyed by a shattering explosion and fire earlier in the week.

Shorty before Voigt's announcement, a hardware store had been evacuated voluntarily when gas traces were found in the basement.

Voigt said the State Crime Laboratory, State Industrial Commission and city investigators all were working to trace the new buildups, and that he had decided to close the entire block to business as a precautionary measure in this northern Wisconsin city of about 10,000.

Some living quarters also occupy space in the buildings that house 19 affected business places, but Voigt said residents could continue to use their apartments if they wished.

Thursday state investigators warned residents to maintain careful checks of possible gas accumulations in the area. Although they refused to blame gas outright for the Penney blast, I. F. Statz of the commission said, "we can assume that an accumulation of gas possible" caused the disaster, in which more than a score of persons were injured and damage of more than $500,000 was done.

Two Financiers Jailed 5 Years On Fraud Counts

LONDON (AP)—The Grunwald affair—a spectacular trial that at one stage shook the London Stock Exchange—ended Friday with two financiers jailed for five years each on fraud charges totaling 3,405,000 pounds—$9,535,400.

The jailed men were Herbert H. Murray, 67, former head of a big building society; and Friedrich Grunwald, 34, the society's solicitor and director of a string of companies.

After a five-week trial, they were found guilty of using the society's money to finance their own property deals. One deal was to take over a company owning London's Dolphin Square, which is Europe's biggest apartment block.

Signature Sets Stage For Oil Lease Money

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' signature on a 1960 bill set the stage for 1,725 heirs to share in $700,000 oil lease money.

The heirs, co-owners of the 1,218-acre tract known as Belle Isle, soon will come into possession of the money now held in escrow by the state mineral board.

They are descendants of Francois Gonsoulin, a Frenchman who came to St. Mary Parish from Normandy 200 years ago.

Senate Bill 121, sponsored by Sens. Samual Broussard and Elmore Bonin and Rep. Fred Decuir, repealed sections of a law which would have required each heir to file suit.

RE-ELECT

Walter Bennett

To School Board

Ward Five

First, let me thank you for the privilege of serving you for the past six years as your school board member from Ward Five.

When the last bond issue was voted, the people of Ward Five were promised several things, all of which they received. I am proud of having a part in seeing that these promises were carried out. During my term of office we built two entirely new school plants in Ward Five — Kiroli Elementary and West Monroe Junior High School. Ransom School was replaced by a new building; additional classrooms were built at Mitchell, Drew, Highland, and Lenwil schools.

In order to alleviate crowded conditions and provide for future growth we have purchased a 20-acre tract of land from Riser brothers in the amount of $20,000 as the site for a new elementary school in the Seigle Addition at Washington and Smith Streets. We have also purchased two additional acres of land for Claiborne School, and have provided the West Monroe High School with the best football field and stadium of any high school in this area of the state.

I have faithfully kept the promises that I made to you that I would not enter into the mechanics of the operation of any school, except to vote as a member of the board. As in the past I will continue to do my best to see that we have responsible personnel in key positions at our schools and will depend on them to run their schools or departments and be responsible to the school board as a whole rather than to any one member of the board. I have kept this promise to the letter and pledge it for my next term as your school board member from Ward Five.

I have never missed a board meeting and have never abstained from voting on any issue, thus you have always known my stand.

I am for:

A. A full school term of nine months.

B. All schools being run by trained and competent personnel and not by individual school board members.

C. A regulation track facility at the West Monroe High School stadium.

I am against:

A. A shortened school term of seven or eight months.

B. Integration at any level.

C. Federal aid to our Schools.

As a member of the Executive-Finance Committee, I can be instrumental in bringing about the above things.

In view of my past record and accomplishments I earnestly solicit your vote and support for the position of school board member from Ward Five.

Promises For All

Promising all things for all people is a favorite device of candidates in trying to win election to office, no matter how it is accomplished. We are about to witness a "soothing balm" promise in the matter of the Louisiana tidelands.

Whether a candidate's promise at a time like that is worth more than a "scrap of paper" peace treaty by Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia would be a moot question. We must judge a candidate more by his former actions than by what he says, especially when we know that he has no hesitation in promising anything any contingent of voters wants.

In Natchitoches, acting chairman Arthur Watson of the 77-member Louisiana Democratic delegation pushed aside any talk about a party bolt.

"I want to have an opportunity to talk to my friends, the people, my area and the governor to find out what their feelings are about the Kennedy-Johnson ticket," Mr. Watson said.

"I understand Senator John Kennedy plans to contact Governor Davis and our Democratic state central committee.

"I'd like to see what his attitude is, particularly on such questions as the tidelands—which is of vital importance to Louisiana."

Watson served as acting chairman of the Louisiana delegation at the Democratic convention in Los Angeles when Governor Jimmie H. Davis, titular party head and chairman, became ill.

There were many who believed that Governor Davis became nauseated before the convention started by the same thing that nauseated many believers in democratic processes after their arrival at the convention — namely, the "rigged' status of the convention — and that he did not want to be put on the spot in such an affair.

If the Louisiana delegation is waiting for Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts to make glowing promises to Louisiana on the question of the tidelands before making up its mind on who it will support in the presidential race, it might as well stop waiting. It is a foregone conclusion that Kennedy will make the promise the Louisiana delegation wants when addressing that delegation, although he sidestepped the tidelands issue at the convention, where the promise would have been on a nationwide basis. If a mere "promise" will cause the Louisiana delegation to sell out on the question of states' rights, integration and socialism, exemplified by federal control and autocratic rule, that promise will be easy and will be made.

If we sacrifice principle for a payoff we will lose individual freedom and the freedom of the states.

Conservatives Lead

Are there more "conservatives" or "liberals" in the United States?

That is a question a good many people have been asking themselves for some time. They have been wondering which party would win in the presidential race if the Democrats would go all-out "liberal," as they have already done, and if the Republicans would go all-out "conservative," which they are not likely to do.

Figures supplied by the Gallup poll indicate the Republicans might have a better chance to win if they would quit trying to ape the Democrats in adopting socialistic platforms and would stick to a straight, fundamental program calling for states' rights, individual freedom and free enterprise. The figures show a slight balance in favor of the "conservatives" in a poll taken through the country.

If the figures in the poll are accurate and show the real sentiment of this country the Republican national convention would do well to nominate Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona for president at the coming convention.

Of course, there is no likelihood that the convention will do that nor that it will nominate the ultra-"liberal" Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Vice-President Richard M. Nixon is already assured of the nomination, barring a miracle, because of the administration strength that will be behind him in the election.

We are almost certain of one thing. The combined platform and candidates of the Republican party can't be more "liberal," or socialistic, which is another word for it, than the combined platform and candidates of the Democratic party. Nixon is credited with being more conservative than either Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee for president, or Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the vice-presidential nominee.

The wide split between the north and south at the Democratic convention, particularly on the civil rights and states' rights issues, raised a question long debated by students of government, namely, would the American electorate more logically be divided into "conservatives" and "liberals"?

To find out how Americans might split if Republican and Democratic alignments were abandoned and a conservative-liberal division adopted the nation's voters were polled.

Across the country, 44 per cent of some 45 million voters indicated they knew the meaning of this type of political division. These "informed" voters then were asked:

"Suppose there were only two major parties in the United States, one for liberals and one for conservatives. Which one would you be most likely to prefer?"

Answers were: prefer conservative, 45 per cent; prefer liberal, 43 per cent; undecided, 12 per cent.

Considering only those who stated a preference for one of the two rival philosophies, the split then was divided as follows: prefer conservative, 51 per cent; prefer liberal, 49 per cent.

On a regional basis, the division was as follows:

East: liberal, 58 per cent; conservative, 42.

Midwest: conservative, 58; liberal, 42.

South: conservative, 55; liberal 45.

Far west: conservative, 50; liberal, 50.

Thus we find the far west evenly divided and possibly ready to swing either way. This leaves a conservative midwest and the slightly less conservative south lined up against the liberal east.

This is largely in accord with the present lineup, in which southern Democrats are in accord with the midwestern conservative Republicans.

It was found that a larger proportion of the "informed" people were Republicans, while a larger proportion of the less informed were Democrats.

On the basis of these figures, the Republicans, at their convention, could well afford to adopt a platform more conservative than that of the Democrats, in regard to civil rights, increased federalization and fantastic spending.

Contributing To Juvenile Delinquency

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A.D.A. Is Hungry Again

Bright Young Men Who Migrated To Washington in Roosevelt Era Are Nostalgic For Good Old Days

The Americans for Democratic Action is an organization of the remnants of Roosevelt's New Deal — the bright young men who, during the pre-war years of the Roosevelt Administration, migrated to Washington in large numbers to change the world. They were a young, excited, idealistic group of experts in many fields. They conceived and produced many of the alphabetical bureaus of the New Deal.

Unfortunately, the years have passed and they are no longer juvenile intellectuals; they are workers in many fields who have to earn a living as we all do. But they are all nostalgic for the good old days when F.D.R. sat in the White House; when Tommy the Cork held forth on his accordian; when Henry Wallace was the social philosopher of the American dream and Rexford Guy Tugwell flexed his muscles against the future.

True, the Democratic Party continues to speak of its Liberalism but with no definitions. The A. D. A. assumed the task of sustaining a Liberal program, quite clearly defined. Its hope originally was to work in both parties, but it has not met with much success among the Republicans.

In 1960, this group attempted to run its own candidate, Senator Hubert Humphrey, but he was unable to make the grade. It then attempted a Blitz for Adlai Stevenson which also collapsed. Some of the A.D.A. group finally supported John Kennedy, hoping to get on the bandwagon, but he no longer needed them. They particularly objected to his selection of Lyndon Johnson as Vice President.

Although most of the platform was written by Chester Bowles and Sam Rosenman, the A. D. A. managed to have some of their principles included in it. They believed that John Kennedy could be pushed into an acceptance of their inflationary policy in economics and their universalist position in international relations. They were sure that Robert Kennedy's friendship with Walter Reuther would help them to gobble up the next administration.

The nomination of Lyndon Johnson for Vice President was a shock to them. Those who watched television must have seen the faces of Joseph Rauh and Robert Nathan as they moved about the convention hall trying to discover a way to get a Vice President to their liking. They were not only angry; they were in despair.

The truth is that they were dealing with the strongest political machine that had ever been developed in this country in either party. The Kennedy clan represents political genius, a capacity for realistic appraisal and an immediate response to problems. Kennedy faced the alternative of losing the South or losing the radicals. The loss of the South could mean defeat; the loss of the radicals means nothing in election terms. To whom will they turn? The Republicans and Richard Nixon? Obviously not. Some of them might attempt to do something about Nelson Rockefeller who, despite everything, will have his name presented to the Republican Convention.

Rockefeller has a Messianic complex, believing that he is a man of destiny and the Republicans do not know what they are losing in not accepting him. His managers have taken space for propaganda during the Republican Convention and the New York delegation is being importuned to make him a favorite son and to present his name as such.

Whereas the A. D. A. actually had representation at the Democratic Convention through the District of Columbia delegation, it will have no such representation at the Republican Convention.

Senator Kennedy's motif appears in every statement. It might be stated this way: he has won the nomination. He won every primary he entered. He won in the Convention. He is going to lead his party and he will fight his campaign as his management of the enterprise plans it.

Despite all the gossip about how much money the Kennedys spent, no one came forth with the slightest evidence. His opposition had a chance to object; no one objected. When Kennedy chose Lyndon Johnson as Vice President, he called in the Big City Bosses to discuss matters. There is no record of his having called in a single A.D.A. officer. He is operating through the Democratic National Committee and the Democratic state and county organizations, which is as it should be because by such a method he lessens the dissension within the Democratic Party and at the same time reduces the effectiveness of the so-called independents.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Heavy Smokers

Taking Great Deal Of Exercise Not Good For Heart Patient

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Are you really serious when you say that exercise doesn't prevent heart disease? You have written quite a few times that relaxing in a rocking chair is probably better than exercise in preventing such trouble. Mr. F., Miami, Fla.

ANSWER: Let me answer your question by asking a question of my own. Are you really serious when you ask if I am perhaps being facetious in making such statements?

Basically, writing this column is serious business. It has to be when one deals with life and death, with illness and incapacity.

It is true that occasionally a bit of humor creeps in — for which I am thankful. It helps to lighten the heavy load at times.

But please believe me, Mr. F., when I make specific statements about illness — especially about such serious ones as heart disease — I am not taking any liberties with established scientific beliefs or principles.

Now that this is out of the way, I'll try to answer your question, which I am sure was put in good faith.

Some (not all) doctors believe that people who sit around most of the time are more likely to come down with a coronary thrombosis. Therefore, they prescribe exercise. They tell middle - aged persons to keep going. To walk a lot, golf, play tennis, ride bicycles, climb mountains and otherwise throw their arms and legs around.

It happens that I don't agree. I have said — and still do — that you can be just as fit (and stay that way) without going out of the way to exercise. People get more exercise than they realize in just living. All you need for fitness is normal weight (which means not overeating); getting sufficient rest at night; taking frequent short vacations, if only on weekends; and learning how to relax during the day. And last but not least trying to keep your emotions under control by developing a philosophy which prevents undue anxiety, hate or resentment.

As for the rocking chair (or for any large, comfortable, wellpadded chair) let me give you some scientific proof that resting in a chair for a few hours a day is even better for your heart than lying flat in bed. For it is a physiological fact that your heart does 20-25 per cent less work if you sit comfortably in a chair with your feet on the floor than when you are lying down flat.

For example, many heart patients know this without being doctors. Sometimes the heart muscle fails while the patient is resting in bed. He suddenly can't breathe; his lungs begin to fill up with fluid.

What does he do to get comfortable? He jumps to a sitting position on the edge of his bed. Within minutes breathing comes easier. If you give such a patient morphine he may get over his attack of heart failure within half an hour.

But suppose you keep him flat in bed? It may take hours or days for similar improvement. The scientific name for this kind of heart failure is "pulmonary edema." Ask your doctor if it doesn't work out that way in his experience.

Coming back to my favorite subject: the rocking chair. I think every home should have one or two. (And really, I am in no way connected with any furniture business).

Some may prefer resting in a large upholstered chair. That's all right, too. The only reason I suggest that a rocking chair may be even better in this: most people tell me that gently rocking to and fro somehow relieves their tensions.

I repeat: It is my considered opinion that daily periods of relaxation in a rocker will do more to prevent heart attacks than systematic exercise.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "Practical Information For Shingles Patients," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addresssed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

Red Offensive

Millions Of Americans Awakened By Soviet Cuba Activity

Russia's arrogant activities in Cuba have awakened millions of Americans to the extent to which the Soviet Bloc is stepping up its economic diplomacy, its outright economic offensive against the West.

But cruel though your awakening may have been, the odds are you still don't realize how aggressively Russia now is using money, materials and manpower to fight an economic war against us and how astutely she has entered areas in which until recently we have been not only supreme but also unchallenged.

Only a few years ago, our country was alone in pushing economic diplomacy on every level, from the top of government to the strictly private financial. Only a few years ago, it was the U. S. alone which was pouring tens of millions of dollars every week through various channels into nations all over the globe for both sublime and selfish purposes. Now, while in total money terms, Russia doesn't yet rival us, she certainly is catching up fast. And while we're spreading our activities over vast regions in the hemispheres, she is concentrating in vital spots and then following through with much more than money.

As an illustration, consider this comparison of U. S. and U. S. S. R. economic diplomacy in June as tabulated by the privately circulated Pick's World Currency Report.

Soviet Orbit economic aid in June totaled $37 million. This probably is far from complete, for Pick's Report covers only four nations.

Cuba: Obtained a Czech $20 million 2½ per cent, 10-year credit which can be repaid with merchandise (the ideal form of loan). Czechoslovak Technoexport concern to build eight factories in Cuba costing about $4 million before end of 1961. Russia extended $100 million credit to Havana, will supply 40,000 tons of wheat and large amounts of oil.

India: Signed agreement with Russia for construction of two natural uranium power reactors. Deal in works for $98 million Soviet credits to develop new oil fields discovered by Russian specialists.

Indonesia: Granted $100 million credits for building by Soviet Union of 100,000 - ton capacity steel plant in West Java. Much of credit in form of equipment, materials. Soviet technicians to be employed.

Iraq: Offered supplementary credit of $45 million by U. S. S. R. in addition to huge ruble loan previously granted.

American economic aim in June totaled $550 million, was spead all over. Typical instances were these.

Australia: Quantas Airlines obtained $25.5 million Eximport Bank loan to buy U. S. aircraft.

Brazil: Authorized to buy $7.3 million of wheat via Public Law 480 — the law under which we may give away our surplus crops and get credits in the form of the currency of the beneficiary nation.

Chile: Received $10 million Eximport Bank credits for earthquake relief, more millions from U. S. donations, and under PL 480.

Egypt: Authorized to buy $6.4 million of tobacco and $1.6 million of cottonseed and soybean oil under PL 480.

India: obtained Development Loan Fund credits of $10 million to buy U. S. equipment, $20 million for electric power development, $13 million for U. S. jeep and truck parts. New Delhi to get $41.2 million to help finance fertilizer plant.

Korea: Got supplementary U. S. credit of $3.5 million.

Sudan: Granted $15.5 million World Bank Loan for irrigation.

The scope of our economic diplomacy dwarfs what Russia is doing and the tens of millions each week add up to tens of billions over the years.

But increasingly important is not the "how much" of the economic diplomacy but the "where" and the "why" and the publicizing of the diplomacy. In these spheres, Russia is challenging us on a scale that it would be catastrophic for us to try to underestimate.

'Growing On 8'

Father Says That About Daughter Month After She Is 7

LAKE TARLETON, N.H. (AP) —Every father remembers the first time he lied for his daughter.

She doesn't—but he does.

Well, I came here to appear at a summer arts festival where people on vacation respond to world problems while they simmer and summer under the sun.

They may not solve any problems at the moment, but they hear them at their leisure—and this is not a bad way to study any problem. Anxiety often produces premature efforts to a wrong conclusion.

As to my lying, there was a shortage of other children, here, but there was a boy here whose father said his son was "almost 10." And I said my daughter, who is one month beyond 7, was "growing on 8."

Well, that is true, for sure, but it only alerts me to those half-truths which aren't whole truths but which are part of the whole picture which a father must soften in presenting the portrait of his daughter.

If she would rather be antiquated at 7, and perhaps at 30 presented as 23, it is the function of the father to box the calendar to his daughter's will.

In her own way Tracy made up the distance between her age of 7, and Tommy's almost 10, and she showed that kind of uncanny feminine sense of adjustment that in my opinion represents military genius.

There are those who feel that true military ability consists of getting the other person, without waste of himself, to bend his ability to your purpose and the sustainment of your endeavor. Under this definition the best militarism is a good marriage.

Well anyway, Tracy, my daughter, made her march on Tommy, and employed her childhood feminine tentacles which later she will fasten to a later fellow and cling to—and the Lord help him.

At the present moment I have only a philosophic feeling of help toward my future son-in-law. I feel, being observant to the terrible grasp of my daughter, I should raise a fund for him to run away from home if he isn't content.

Perhaps I am a different father. My daughter is only 7 years old. But already I am on the side of my son-in-law.

Yet my daughter is not without her kindness, now and I hope forever.

The other night, just before our one-week vacation was over, I took her for a walk in these green-templed hills when the evening star lit the eternal meadows of the dark.

Tracy is neighbor to both nature and nurture, and I held her hand till we came to a wishing well on the way home. I gave her three pennies to drop in the well—a coin for her father, her mother, and herself.

All alone by herself she dropped the coins into the well and heard them—as I did—splash in the dark deep.

We walked along, and full of herself, as children are, she said, "Can I tell what I wished?"

"If you want to, I don't think it will hurt," I told her.

"I wished for you and Mommy the same thing—a happy life," she said. "And I wished I would marry a nice boy and have a nice life, too."

And hand in hand, under the evening star, we walked toward the packing hour and the return to duty.

I hope you have a nice vacation, too.

Daily Devotion

Stand in awe, and sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still. — Psalm 4:4.

While the Fourth Psalm is not as well known as many of the others, it is the original inspiration of "Meditation." The person who does not from time to time stop and review his activities, stand in awe of what God hath wrought in nature and in amazement at His love and concern for His earthly children, is not truly a realist and is not living a full life. The Christian must "get his bearings" from time to time, as does the woodsman, the guide, the airplane pilot and the mariner.

O God, may we seek Thy guiding hand in all we do, that we may avoid becoming spiritual wanderers. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Living Cost Hits New High Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living hit a high again for the fourth month in a row with a June rise of one-fifth of one per cent, the Labor Department announced Friday.

The consumer price index rose to 126½ per cent of the 1947-49 average.

As a result, some 600,000 aircraft, electrical manufacturing and trucking industry workers gained wage increases of one or two cents an hour under esclator wage contracts.

As in recent months, food prices were the major drag on the family budget. Gasoline, medical care, rent, and transportation also rose.

It cost the typical city family $126.50 to buy the same "basket" of goods and services that cost $100 in the years after World War II and just before the Korean War.

The index has risen two full points since mid-1959. In dollar-and-cent terms, this is depreciation of more than 1½ cents in the buying power of the consumer dollar.

The weekly spendable earnings of factory workers went up 18 cents, or one-fifth of one per cent, because of an increase of one-tenth of an hour in the work week. There was no increase in the workers' buying power, however, because of the offsetting price rise.

The department said spendable earnings averaged $81.59 a week for a worker with three dependents and $74.03 for a worker without dependents.

The 0.6 per cent rise in food prices last month — chiefly for fresh fruits and pork — was not unseasonably large; in fact it was a bit below average for June.

The possibility that living costs might level off in July was held out by Arnold Chase, price chief of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. "We could get some decline after this month," Chase said.

A number of important items declined in June. New car prices dropped 0.9 per cent and major home appliances went down for the fifth successive month. Clothing costs were steady.

Eggs, poultry, beef, veal and fresh vegetables all were lower, but these movements were much more than offset by the rise in fresh fruits.

The trend of over-all transportation costs was upward, boosted by 1½ per cent increase in gasoline. Motor fuel now costs 2.7 per cent more than it did a year ago.

Employes of General Electric Co. will receive a pay increase averaging two cents an hour under their wage contract which is hitched to the price index. Sylvania's employes will receive a one-cent increase as will workers in the Douglas and McDonnell aircraft companies.

St. Joseph To Install Modern Sewer System

FERRIDAY (Special) — St. Joseph will be the first community in Tensas Parish to have modern sewerage facilities, according to Mayor O. Newton Wilds. The electorate voted four and a half to one to issue bonds for the construction of the sewerage system.

The election on the bond issue was held on Tuesday with the ballots being tabulated at ten o'clock Thursday morning. The vote was sixty five for the issuance of bonds and fifteen against. The assessed valuation vote showed $219,647 for the issuance and $15,303 against.

It is proposed to issue eighty six thousand dollars of full faith and credit bonds of the Town of St. Joseph to defray part of the cost of the system and $165,000 in revenue bonds for the remainder of the construction and installation costs.

Jordan, Kaiser and Sessions, engineers of Natchez, Miss., have prepared plans and specifications for the sewerage system as well as estimates of cost on which the bond issues were based.

Pair Lose 94 Pounds; Can Adopt Child

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An overweight couple who blitzed off 94 pounds in less than four months won their fight Friday to adopt a baby they have cared for since birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherman of suburban Reseda, told April 9 that they were too fat to keep year-old Janet, were approved as parents by Superior Court Judge Ben Koenig.

The County Adoption Bureau had opposed the adoption for fear that the couple's abnormal weight would shorten their lives and endanger Janet's future.

Sherman, 39, had reduced from 333 to 277½ pounds and his wife, Bernice, 37, from 252½ to 214. Sherman is 6 feet 3; his wife is 5 feet 5.

Expansion Of Pipelines Is Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal Power Commission examiner ruled Friday that Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., and three other companies should be authorized to expand their interstate natural gas pipeline systems at a cost of about 58 million dollars.

The Texas Eastern project is designed to provide a new winter service to 23 wholesale customers in the Midwest and East, including New England. It would make available to them a maximum daily total of 334,036,000 cubic feet of gas.

Linked to the Texas Eastern project would be expansions of Algonquin Gas Transmission Co., Boston; Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp., Houston, and New York Natural Gas Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa.

The decision, by examiner Emery J. Woodall, will become by a final comission order if no review is initiated within 30 days.

Texas Eastern proposes a $40,668,000 project in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. In addition, the company would jointly develop with Transcontinental and New York Natural its share of the Leidy Storage field in Potter, Clinton and Cameron counties in Pennsylvania.

Development of the storage field, at an estimated cost of $8,022,400, would be required for Texas Eastern to carry out its winter service plan. The cost would be shared with Transcontinental.

Algonquin would be authorized to build $5,502,200 worth of facilities in Massachusetts to transport and sell 75,130,000 cubic feet of winter service gas to be received from Texas Eastern.

Transcontinental would construct a compressor station in Pennsylvania at a cost of about $2,995,000 to meet its delivery obligations in the storage area.

Woodall also held that Texas Eastern should be authorized to sell up to 20 billion cubic feet of gas a year to four subsidiary companies of the consolidated natural gas system which are already its customers. The four compaines are East Ohio Gas Co., Peoples Natural Gas Co., New York State Natural and Hope Natural Gas Co.

Texas Eastern had proposed an average rate of 68.3 cents per thousand cubic feet for the winter service but Woodall held that the price should average 74.6 cents.

State Official Protests About No Drought Aid

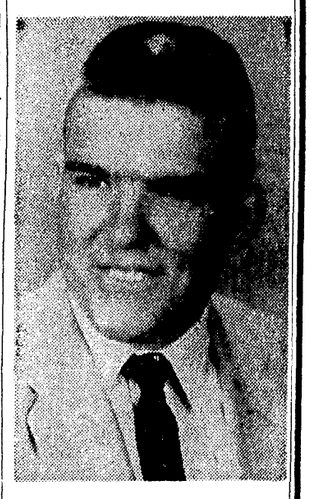

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A state official protested Friday the failure of President Eisenhower or Agriculture Secretary Benson to even reply to Louisiana's emergency plea for drought assistance.

Agriculture Commissioner Dave L. Pearce wrote Benson voicing his astonishment.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis forwarded the plea to the President after the state disaster committee weeks ago certified 32 southern Louisiana parishes in immediate need of emergency livestock feed.

"It seems our Washington officials," Pearce wrote, "have grown extremely calloused to the needs of those citizens who are responsible for their very existence."

The state official termed the situation "all the more astonishing" because the federal government has several million bushels of surplus grain stored in this state.

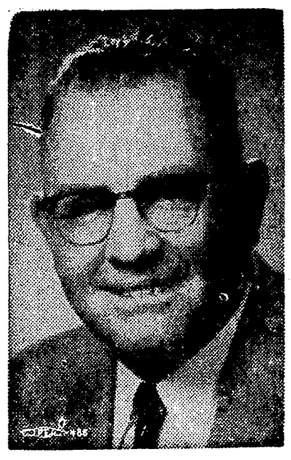

KENNETH WARD, above, will be ordained to the gospel ministery on his 19th birthday at the Fairbanks Baptist Church on Sunday, July 24 at 2:30 P.M.

The ordination sermon will be preached by Rev. Paul McComb, pastor of the church. Rev. Leon Ivy will give the charge to the candidate and Rev. Charles Littleton will give the charge to the church.

Mr. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Ward of Fairbanks, is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and is a sophomore in speech education at Northeast Louisiana State College. He was a life long member of the Fairbanks Baptist Church until his recent call as pastor of the Rock Corner Baptist Church near Ruston, which is in the Concord Association.

IS THE LOGICAL CHOICE For JUDGE OF WEST MONROE CITY COURT!

No. 23 On Voting Machine

The most meaningful statement made during the entire campaign for judge of the West Monroe (Ward Five) City Court was made when John McCormick said:

"I WILL WELCOME THE OPPORTUNITY OF DISCUSSING YOUR PROBLEMS WITH YOU AT ALL TIMES."

John McCormick is a man with enough of the milk of human kindness in him to temper justice with mercy. The judge of a court as close to the people as the West Monroe City Court is should not be cold and aloof but should possess a warm understanding of individual human problems.

In a court conducted by John McCormick you would at all times be assured of justice tempered by sympathetic understanding of all the facts involved.

Over a period of many years John McCormick has proved his unselfish interest in West Monroe and Ward Five, particularly in relation to our children and their problems. He has been one of our hardest workers for recreation facilities and directed sports.

He is a man with a heart!

Maybe Harry Truman's refusal to attend the Democratic Convention was a sly publicity stunt for his next book, which will weigh the whole concept of political conclaves and suggest a few major changes in the method of choosing presidential candidates.

Predictable publicity stunt. Lisa Gaye, who will play Dixie Ann Dikes in a movie, will "seek permission to be a prisoner" in the Colorado State Prison where Dixie is serving a term for armed robbery. There've been fiery moments during the shooting of "Recreation," in Versailles — not unnaturally, because the star is Jean Seburg and the director her estranged husband, Francois Moreuil, from whom she sparated a few weeks ago. M. Moreuil keeps making script changes between scenes (Francoise Sagan, who did the screenplay, will be enchanted to learn that) and Jean insists she can't memorize the dialogue on the spot. He's said some unkind things about her acting, and those who've visited the set say the off - camera flareups are more entertaining that the Sagan plot.

One of the most famous luxury hotels in Miami Beach got a much - needed shot in the financial arm a few days ago when its owners borrowed almost a million dollars from some Midwest money man. The loan was "an emergenry measure" to save the hote until Winter, when business will pick up.

TROUBLE BLOWS IN

STARKE, Fla. (AP) — Police Chief Riley Sweat directed his men to pick up any youngster found blowing up toy balloons.

A few hours later, patrolmen spotted a pair of 13-year-olds standing on a street corner, busily inflating colored balloons.

At the police station, the youngsters admitted they had broken into a service station to steal knives, flashlights, candy and a carton of toy balloons.

Said Sweat: "I figured it was the work of kids. I knew they couldn't resist blowing up all the balloons."

Independent Elector Move Is Underway

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—Chairman Bidwell Adam of the Mississippi Democratic Executive Committee said Friday a special meeting of the committee would be held in Jackson next Wednesday, possibly to consider reassembling of the state Democratic convention.

The Gulfport Democratic leader said Gov. Ross Barnett and House Speaker Walter Sillers asked for the meeting, along with one member of the committee whom Adam did not identify.

"They have in mind to discuss the question of reassembling the state Democratic convention looking into the direction of a set of independent electors in the November presidential election," Adam said.

"I have no suggestion as to possible course to follow at this time," Adam said, adding that he called the meeting because of the requests.

Barnett and other Mississippi Democratic leaders were displeased with the platform adopted at the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles, particularly the civil rights plank. Barnett at first suggested a bolt from the party, but later revised his stand to make available independent presidential electors in addition to the regular Democratic electors.

Campus Lighting Contract Under Consideration

Freeman Electric Co. of Monroe has submitted a low bid of $24,888 for the installation of additional outdoor campus lighting at Northeast Louisiana State College.

The State Board of Education, which had approved preliminary plans for the project, will consider awarding a contract at its meeting next Friday.

The bid includes furnishing 81 light standards and 81 luminairs, or globes, plus complete installation. Wiring will be underground on the project, which is scheduled for completion in 60 days.

An electronic device will automatically turn the lights on and off as outdoor lighting conditions require.

The lights will be located along the sidewalks in front of the buildings, on the drive from behind the president's home to the dormitories and on the extension of Hippolite Street to be built from College Avenue too the new dining hall.

Formal Request For Meet Filed On Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States filed a formal request late Friday for an early meeting of the 82-nation U. N. Disarmament Commission to consider the breakdown of big-power disarmament talks.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge sent the request to U. N. Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold with a copy of the latest American disarmament plan, which he asked to have circulated to the 82 U. N. members.

The request said the Communist side walked out June 27 on negotiations in the 10-nation Geneva disarmament committee and refused to listen to this plan.

Big Spending Discussed By Demo Leaders

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy and W. Averell Harriman, a top adviser, discussed Friday a huge new defense spending program as a "jarring" foreign policy answer to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow and onetime governor of New York, told reporters about it at a news conference after he conferred with the Democratic presidential nominee for nearly two hours.

A newsman said there has been reports that Kennedy would ask for a "two-billion-dollar supplemental appropriation" when Congress reconvenes Aug. 8, then asked Harriman whether he and Kennedy had discussed anything along that line.

"Yes, but you'll have to get that from him," Harriman replied.

"I think it is one of the answers to Khrushchev, who is insulting us at every turn as a result of the present administration's weakness," he said.

"The appropriation would be for specific things that need to be done," Harriman said. "That is one of the answers to Khrushchev—he needs to be jarred."

Harriman said President Eisenhower now is taking a firm stand on foreign policy, but he said "he waited until we were on the ropes."

"At long last he has a program for Latin America—but no program for Africa—and look at what is happening there."

Harriman's meeting with Kennedy came a day before Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, is to give Kennedy a briefing on the world situation. The briefing was ordered by President Eisenhower for the presidential tickets of both parties.

Harriman is one of Kennedy's foreign policy advisers along with Adlai E. Stevenson and Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut. Archibald Cox, a Harvard University foreign policy expert, is coordinator of the group.

Some of Stevenson's supporters already have urged that he be made secretary of state if the Democrats win the presidency fall.

Sox Maul Yanks, 11-5, With 18-Hit Barrage

Chicago Runs Win String To Six Straight

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago White Sox charged within .003 percentage points of first place New York tonight, whipping the Yankees 11-5 with 18 hits for their sixth straight success and their longest string of the year.

Minnie Minoso drove in three runs and Gene Freese and Nellie Fox each batted in two for the defending American League champs, who had lost seven in a row to the Yankees. A crowd of 48,603 sat in on the opener of a showdown, four-game series.

The White Sox shrugged off a two-run home run by Bill Skowron, his 17th, in the second inning and came back for a tying run in the third and a crushing five-run frolic in the fourth that beat Bob Turley (6-2). The big right-hander had won six in a row since a May 20 defeat.

Southpaw Frank Baumann, following starter Early Wynn and Turk Lown, was the winner in relief for a 7-4 record. He allowed three hits and one run in 4 2-3 innings, getting Skowron on a doubleplay ball with the bases loaded and one out after he relieved Lown in the fifth.

Freese opened the Sox' fifth with the first of his two doubles and broke a 2-2 tie when he rolled home on Wynn's one-out single. Jim Landis then doubled, Fox singled Wynn home and Minoso followed with a clinching, two-run double for the Sox' fourth straight hit. Sievers, hitting in 23 of his last 24 games, then singled Minoso home against reliever Bobby Shantz.

After that it was just a ball for the White Sox, whose 18 hits —five of them doubles—were the most off Yankee pitchers in one game this year. That spree also gave the Sox 70 hits in their last five games, in which they've scored 47 runs.

Two walks and a single by Fox, his third of the game and 1,999th of his career, and Minoso's sacrifice fly counted two more runs in the fifth, off Johnny James. They got another in the sixth on Freese's two-out double and a single by Luis Aparicio. The final run was unearned, scoring on Freese' second sacrifice fly, in the eighth againt Duke Maas.

Mizell Pitches Bucs To 4-1 Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wilmer Mizell, in trouble much of the time but tough in the clutch, pitched Pittsburgh to a 4-1 victory over San Francisco Friday night, increasing the Pirates' National League lead to 2½ games over Milwaukee.

Mizell, a 6-3 lefty, gave up at least one hit in each of the first seven innings and loaded the bases in the third.

Two Giants were stranded in each of the fourth and fifth innings but Mizell pitched himself out of trouble each time.

Three double plays and flawless fielding backed him up.

Three Pirate runs scored in the fifth off loser Mike McCormick on singles by Gino Cimoli and Hal Smith, a forceout by Don Hoak, and singles by Bill Mazeroski and Bob Skinner.

McCormick, who lost his sixth game in 15 decisions, has not finished a game in his last 10 starts.

The lone Giant run came on Willie Mays first inning home run. his 19th of the season. Another Pirate run came in the sixth on Dick Groat's single, two walks and an error by first baseman Orlando Cepeda, who let an outfield throw get by him at home plate.

Mizell gave up nine hits and struck out only two men, but one of the strikeouts was Willie Kirkland, who fanned in the third with the bases loaded.

Venetian Way Heads Field In Arlington

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 12 three-year-olds headed by Kentucky Winner Venetian Way, who will be ridden by Eddie Arcaro, was named for Saturday's 32nd running of the $135,600 Arlington Classic at Arlington Park.

Venetian Way will share top weight at 123 pounds and will probably be a heavy favorite over his 11 opponents in the mile test.

Given the best chance against Venetian Way are Merrick Stables' John William, who will also carry 123 pounds, Llangollen Farms' Divine Comedy, Ralph Lowe's New Policy and Bohemia Stables' Kelso.

The July 2 victory was the first win for Venetian Way since the May 7 Kentucky Derby. He pulled a second at Belmont Stakes and a fifth in the Preakness.

Completing the field are J. Graham Brown's Run for Nurse, a supplementary entry at a fee of $10,000, Mrs. Mary Keim's Heroshogala, C. R. Mack Stables' T.V Lark, Kerr Stables' Grey Eagle, Russell A. Firsetone Jr.'s Jive Music, Sidney I. Crew's Cuvier Relic and Carlton Clay's Bold Lark.

The winner, except Run for Nurse, will net $86,500. A victory for Run for Nurse would be worth $76,600.

ESKIMO MAKES DEBUT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — An 18-year-old Eskimo girl is making her film debut in Warner Brothers' "Ice Palace."

Dorcas Brower was flown here from Point Barrow, Alaska, and plays the part of Robert Ryan's wife in the picture. She has had no acting experience but has won spontaneous applause from her co - workers on the set.

Hollywood Run

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Unbeaten Olden Times, winner of four straight here, takes on six other fleet 2-year-olds in the $143,250 Hollywood Juvenile championship Saturday.

The 6-furlong race figures as another blazing duel between Olden Times and his arch rival, Pappa's All. The latter had won five in a row until Olden Times took him after a terrific battle in the recent C.S. Howard Stakes.

SIMMONS TOUGH

Cards Club Reds In 8-3 Runaway

CINCINNATI (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals clubbed Joe Nuxhall for seven hits and five runs in the first 2 1-3 innings Friday night and coasted to an 8-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

That early inning outburst included a home run by Daryl Spencer, a triple and two doubles.

The veteran Curt Simmons allowed the Reds only six hits and he never was in any serious trouble. Two of the Cincinnati hits were home runs by Frank Robinson and Willie Jones.

Alex Grammas, who went into the game with a .201 batting average, had four hits for the Cards and Julian Javier stole two bases.

The cards wasted little time making it a miserable night for Nuxhall. Javier opened the game with a triple and that was followed by singles by Grammas and Bob Nieman before Stan Musial hit into a double play. Spencer followed with his home run.

Doubles by Grammas and Nieman and a single by Musial gave the Cards two more runs in the third before Cal McLish came in to relieve Nuxhall.

Jay Hebert Passes Palmer In Second Round Of PGA

By OSCAR FRALEY

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Marine hero Jay Hebert stormed the PGA golf championship Friday as he did the beaches of Iwo Jima to capture the second round lead while Arnold Palmer's bid for "triple crown" glory struck a snag on the wire-tough reefs of Firestone Country Club.

The handsome 37-year-old Hebert, who was shot in the leg at Iwo Jima, disdained par and pressure as he fired a three-under regulation 33-34 — 67 for a 139 which boosted him one shot ahead of slender, ambling Don January's 35-35—70 for an even par total of 140.

Palmer, the Pennsylvania golden boy seeking to add the PGA to his U.S. Open and Masters championships, had taken the first-round lead with a 67. But in the blazing afternoon heat Friday he wavered on the front nine to go four over par before rallying his forces to match par all the way in and take a 39-35—74 for a 141 which tied him—two strokes back—along with Slammin' Sammy Snead and young Doug Sanders.

Snead, driving wildly, still managed a 38-35—73 which matched the two-round pace of Palmer and Sanders, the man with the "telephone booth backswing," with two rounds to go.

Another shot away at 142 came Ken Venturi with a 72; Fred Hawkins with a 35-34 — 69 and John O'Donnell, a 46-year-old pro from Baltimore with a 71. Young Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., was at 143, only four shots back, after a 71 and then the field was well bunched with Tommy Bolt, George Bayer and Gene Littler at 144; Jackie Burke, Don Fairfield, Jimmy Clark, Al Besselink, Jim Ferrier and Doug Ford at 145; Dow Finsterwald, Mike Souchak, Freddie Haas and Shelley Mayfield at 146.

Ben Hogan shot himself a 35-38—73 complaining that it was the first time he could remember having two rounds without a single birdie, to tie at 147 with such as Pete Cooper, Lionel Hebert, Cary Middlecoff and Paul Harney. Then, at 148, there were Jerry Barber, Jack Fleck and Billy Casper while defending champion Bob Rosburg headed the list at 149 which included Moose Boros, Jim Turnesa, Art Wall and Wally Burkemo.

It required a score of 151 to survive the cut to the low 90 and ties for Saturday's third round, after which only the low 60 and ties qualify for Sunday's windup 18 holes. Three former champions —Chandler Harper, Vic Ghezzi and Denny Shute—failed to make it and other victims included Joe Kirkwood, Jackson Bradley and young Joe Campbell.

A gasping gallery of 12,770 spectators followed Palmer faithfully over those final nine holes as he attempted to pull his game together after his limping start.

Palmer, seeking a fabled golfing "triple crown" as he attempted to add the PGA to his triumphs in the Masters and the U.S. Open, was terrifically wild off the tees compared with his unerring accuracy in the opening round. The Pennsylvania golden boy missed five fairways on the front nine as he staggered out in 39 with a scrambled card.

Showing his uncertainty even on the green, he got a birdie four on the 500-yard par five second hole by chipping to within three feet. But then Palmer came apart at the seams with three bogeys and a double bogey through the next seven holes. He drove in the rough and put his second over the green for a double bogey six at the 450-yard third; drove in the rough and trapped his approach to bogey the fourth; drove into the rough to bogey the sixth and did the same again on the ninth.

DRYSDALE, HOWARD STAR

Dodgers Blank Phillies, 2 To 0

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank Howard homered in the second, Los Angeles added another run in the eighth and Don Drysdale pitched a four-hitter to shut out Philadelphia Friday night 2-0 before 21,335. Drysdale struck out 14 Phillies.

The loser was Gene Conley, who held the Dodgers to five hits in seven innings before retiring for a pinch hitter.

Howard's towering homer over the left field screen stood up until his teammates put across another in the eighth off Dick Farrell. The run was scored by Drysdale, who led off the inning with a double and came in on Norm Larker's sacrifice fly.

Howard's homer was his 15th.

The victory sent the Dodgers back into third place, one percentage point ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Drysdale was never in too serious trouble until the eighth when Joe Morgan, first up, doubled to left field. But Drysdale fanned the next three batters and followed with three more strikeouts in the ninth.

The only Philly who gave the big pitcher trouble was Tony Taylor, who got a single and a double.

In the third Wally Moon singled sharply to left for his 1,000 major league base hit. He was then thrown out trying to steal second.

Ruston Tops Sterlington By 6-4 Count

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Pacesetting Ruston hopped on Sterlington ace Bill Halley for four unearned runs in the first two innings and went on to take a 6-4 victory to stretch their La - Ark League lead to 2½ games.

Halley, who slugs a ball about as well as he pitches, rammed a three - run blast over the fence in the ninth but the Ramblers then shut the door.

The contest was the only game not washed out. The West Monroe-Monroe and Bastrop - Dubach tilts were postponed because of rain and wet grounds.

Lanky Ray Germany hurled five hit ball to pick up the victory. He allowed a run in the first frame and then blanked the Cats until Halley's shot in the final inning.

Halley, who solved Germany's slants for three hits, tossed the first five innings before giving way to Rayborn Nolan who finished up.

George Garrett slammed a solo home run for Ruston in the first inning to knot the count at 1-1. Two errors, a passed ball, a hit batsman and singles by Charley Fuller and Dickey Hinton plated four more runs for the Ramblers in the second.

The loss dopped Sterlington into a third - place tie with Monroe. Sterlington has won 10 and lost ten while Monroe is 9-9.

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK

Something that never fails to raise our eyebrows a notch or two is the early arrival of the seasons. We're not talking about spring, summer, fall and winter but football, basketball and baseball.

Barely has a leaf turned brown before the basketball tub-thumpers are out in force and you're reading about how many inches Freddy Longlegs has grown since last winter (he now bumps his head on the goal) and the latest rule changes (only one dribble behind the back per quarter).

It's the dead of winter, they're snowbound in Kansas and plenty of people still haven't taken down their Christmas tree but you read about a major league manager, all set to head to Florida for spring training, predicting a pennant for his club (he claims a cross-eyed youngster who hit .278 in class D will be "the next Musial").

And now July is barely half gone, sweat is getting in my eyes, they haven't started picking cotton yet and two football magazines are out.

One mag, Street and Smith's grid roundup, picks Ole Miss as the probable national champion for the second straight year. They missed by only 89 yards last year, you know. Not a bad choice. The Rebels lost a lot of good horses, Charlie Flowers, Marvin Terrell, etc., but Johnny Vaught keeps bringing up those country boys who run like rabbits and hit like rhinos.

How about LSU? Well, Tuscaloosa News Sports Editor Charles Land, writing in College and Professional Football Roundup, surprisingly taps the Bengals for the No. 2 spot in the SEC. Street and Smith's Southeastern prophet Jackson state-Times Sports Editor Jimmie McDowell, is more conservative, picking LSU for fifth.

McDowell's guess would seem nearer right. After being one of the prophets without honor who failed to see great things for LSU in 1958, we are cautious about low - rating the Tigers.

But the lack of a proven offensive quarterback is very likely to plague LSU. At practically every other position, the Bengals appear to be in about as good a shape as they were in '58. But few people expect Darryl Jenkins, the ex - Bandit who'll start under center, to be an outstanding quarterback, a good one maybe, but not a great one. And few clubs make it big without an exceptional quarterback.

Of course, Jenkins may play offensive quarterback just as well or better than he played defense. Then things might be rosy. Or Jimmy Field or Tommy Thompson could develop into a fine quarterback in a hurry.

Things look pretty good elsewhere. There are fine linemen around like Mickey Mangham, Bo Strange, Ed McCreedy and Roy Winston and the ground attack, even with Cannon and Robinson gone, won't be embarrassed with fellows like Wendall Harris, Earl Gros, Tommy Neck, and Donnie Daye on hand.

The field is greener than a May meadow behind the first team of course, but that's the way it was two years ago. It will be interesting to see how youngsters like Jerry Stovall, Danny Neumann, Don Estes, Bob Rice and Fred Miller develop. If they turn out okay and Jenkins comes through, the Tigers might be as tough as ever.

In only about two months we'll find out.

SHORT SHOTS

REMEMBER Doug Skinner? He was the Minden boy that started out the 1957 season as LSU's first string center with Max Fugler a reserve fullback. Skinner departed after two or three games and Max moved in to stay. Skinner Thursday was released by the Boston Patriots of the AFL.

BOB PERCEL, who keeps the time at B&B Arena every Monday night, sank a hole - in - one at Muny last Sunday morning. Playing with Tom Jett and Willie Cowart, Bob did the trick on the 109-yard No. 2 hole, using a No. 9 iron. The rain caught the threesome right after the hole and Percel didn't get to finish the round.

BOSSIER'S CECIL UPSHAW has, for the time being anyway, turned his back on professional baseball and signed a basketball grant-in-aid with Centenary. Centenary has made quite a haul from around Shreveport. In addition to all - stater Upshaw, the Gents have corraled Bossier teammate Dennie Kile and Byrd's Jimmy Williams. Upshaw, of course, may yet fly the coop for a fling with the baseball pros.

BY THE WAY, the word's out that Northwestern may not get Dry Prong's Gerald Woodard after all. Woodard, heavily courted by Northeast's Lenny Fant as well as the Demons' Huey Cranford, appears headed for Kilgore (Texas) Junior College now.

LINDEN J. BERCEGEAY Jr., former Southwestern all-GSC lineman, has been named assistant coach at Groves High in Savannah, Ga.

Wright Ups Advantage To Two Strokes

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Defending champion Mickey Wright built her lead in the U.S. Women's Open Golf Tournament to two strokes Friday, posting her second straight 1-under-par 71 over the Worcester Country Club course.

Her 36-hole total of 142 put her two up on pleasant Marilynn Smith, the Ladies PGA president from French Lick, Ind., her only close competition.

The tourney ends with a 36-hole final Saturday over the 6,137 yard, par 35-37—72 layout.

Miss Wright, a tall, personable pro from San Diego, Calif., who is shooting for an unprecedented third straight Open title, was 1-under-par going out, but ran into some minor difficulties on the trying back nine.

"The wind was terrible," she said. The gusty breeze blew at about 25 miles per hour most of the day, and was higher at times.

"It didn't bother you much going out," she said. "But it really hurt on the back nine. There just wasn't anything to stop it, and most of the time, it was a cross wind."

She bogied the 150 yard par 3 10th hole, but was even par the rest of the way in.

"I was hitting the ball much better today," she said. "You had to hit the ball better today to score as well as you did yesterday. The course played much harder."

Minden Captures Fourth District Legion Pennant

MINDEN, La. (Special) —Andress Motors of Minden scored four times in the third inning and knocked off Industrial Sheet Metal of Shreveport, 4-2, here Friday night in the final game of the fourth district American Legion playoff.

The Mindenites, who meet fifth district champ Monroe in the opening round of the state playoffs, pulled from a 2-0 deficit to win the deciding game of the best-of-three series. Both previous games had gone into extra innings.

David Lee's two - run double off Industrial relief pitcher Kyle Stephenson was the big Minden blow. Billy Ray scattered six hits in pitching Minden to the victory. He now has a 7-1 record for the season.

Minden is 17-5 for the season.

Wertz Outduels Piersall, 6 To 4

BOSTON (AP)—Boston reaped a 6-4 victory over Cleveland Friday night as Red Sox first baseman Vic Wertz won a batting duel from cavorting Jim Piersall. They had been exchanged in a 1958 trade.

Wertz drove in four runs on a three-run homer and two singles, including a fifth inning safety which decided the contest.

Piersall smashed two homers—bringing his total to four in three games and 13 for the season—to account for three tallies.

Red Sox starter Ike Delock got credit for the triumph though he got help from Mike Fornieles in snapping a three - game losing streak.

Boston's 41-year-old marvel, Ted Williams, lined his 15th homer of the season and 507th career belt down the right field line in the first inning.

Cleveland's Vic Power saw his consecutive game hitting streak stopped at 20 but teammate Ken Aspromonte, another ex-Red Sox, advanced his skein to 19.

Orioles Take 2-1 Triumph Over Tigers

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles scored two unearned runs in the fourth inning Monday night and went on to a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers before 24,892 fans.

Lefty Pete Burnside was victimized by sloppy Detroit infield play, and his record was evened at 5-5.

Singles by Walt Dropo and Brooks Robinson, and an error by Frank Bolling loaded the bases. Burnside struck out Ron Hansen, but Dropo and Robinson scored when shortstop Chico Fernandez threw wildly past first in an attempt to complete a double play.

Jack Fisher, who blanked Detroit on six hits in seven innings after relieving starter Steve Barber, was the winning pitcher. His record is 6-8. Barber was lifted for a pinchhitter in the second after his arm tightened between innings.

The Tigers scored in the second on a single by Rocky Colavito, a walk, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly by Fernandez.

No Hot Time In The Old Town At Yankee Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—Round three in the Chicago White Sox-New York Yankees fireworks feud was won by the New York Fire Dept. Friday night.

The White Sox had planned to fire a mortar filled with fireworks if they hit a home run against the Yankees in the four-game series which opened at Yankee Stadium.

But Fire Chief Edward J. Cavanagh led a squad of firemen into the Sox clubhouse and confiscated the mortar.

Fireworks are not allowed in New York City.

Athletics Use Solon Errors For 9-4 Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics took advantage of Washington's leaky defense for six unearned runs and posted a 9-4 victory over the Senators Monday night.

Jim Lemon socked his 24th home run in the Washington sixth to score Bob Allison, who had walked.

However, in the top of the sixth, Jerry Lumpe's two-out line drive bounced off Lemon's glove for an error that cleared the way for four Kansas City runs.

The Athletics scored twice in the third inning. An infield single, an error, a fielder's choice loaded the bases. One run scored on a double play and Dick Williams' double drove in another.

The Senators tied it up in the fourth on an infield single, an error and Lemon's sacrifice fly, followed by Harmon Killebrew's double and Earl Battey's single.

Kansas City scored two more in the fifth on an error, singles by Russ Snyder and Williams and Lumpe's double. Then the Athletics locked it up with four unearned runs in the sixth on three walks. Lemon's error, Bill Tuttle's double and a single by Norm Siebern.

The final Kansas City run in the eighth came on a walk, sacrifice and Williams' single.

KANSAS CITY

Steps Up Fight To Keep Team

By FRANK CRAWFORD

KANSAS CITY (AP)—This city is fighting on two fronts to keep its American League baseball franchise, up for sale by heirs of the late Arnold Johnson.

Leaders of the Kansas City group report good progress on both fronts—a request for money to buy the franchise and a campaign to boost attendance at the Athletics' home games beyond the 850,000 mark this season.

On the money front, the group is keeping mum on the amount investors have put until the time is right to make their bid. There are reports that a nucleus of ten larger investors have in excess of $2,000,000 now and that others will swell the total to possibly twice that amount.

"But if we can get the attendance over 850,000, the baseball club's contract with the city requires keeping the Athletics here for two more years after this season," said Sal Capra, city councilman. "We feel certain that we can do it and are optimistic that the club will remain in Kansas City. I understand there will be solid offers from some other cities but I believe we can rise to the occasion and keep our big league status."

Ernest Mehl, sports editor of the Kansas City Star and co-chairman of a committee seeking to keep the club here, said attendance is the key to the situation.

"We are practically assured of meeting the attendance requirement of the A's contract with the city. We have only about two weeks to put this drive over," Mehl said. "Groups in Minneapolis-St. Paul, Dallas and Houston are actively raising money but they are not interested in buying the club if they have to keep it here."

The Star and a greeting card company (Hallmark) each bought 25,000 tickets in the attendance drive. Attendance has averaged over a million for five years and 432,229 have seen the 46 games here this season.

Meanwhile, reports of a bid of $4,500,000 by a New York syndicate were discounted here.

Johnson, who died in March, owned 52 per cent of the A's stock which he willed to his widow, Carmen, who since has married Paul Hume of New York.

Ferriday Gains Finals With 14-1 Win Over Tensas

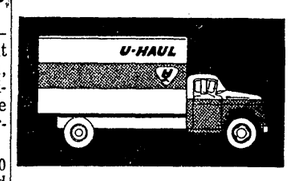

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Otha Sober pitched a four - hit victory over Tensas Parish, 14-1, here Friday night to push Ferriday into the finals of the Little Boys sub-district baseball tournament here.

The finals open tonight at 6:30 with Ferriday meeting undefeated Winnsboro. A victory by Winnsboro would give it the title. If Ferriday wins, a second game will follow at 8:30.

Robert Davis led the winning attack with a single, a double and a two-run homer in four trips to the plate. Sam Cole had 2-2 and Roy Halcomb collected 3-4.

Mal Lancaster, the loser, gave up five runs in the first inning before being relieved by Bill Walker. Mike Parker accounted for the lone Tensas run with a third - inning home run.

CLAY COURTS TENNIS

Bad Barry MacKay Edges Jon Douglas

CHICAGO (AP)—In a three-hour marathon, during which he twice threw his racket, sent a ball boy crying from the court and drew violent boos from the crowd, U.S. Davis Cup star Barry MacKay Friday advanced to the final of the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournment.

The 23-year-old top-seeded player from Dayton had his temperamental outbursts before about 2,000 River Forest Tennis Club fans in outlasting Marine Pvt. Jon Douglas 4-6, 6-4, 10-12, 6-3, 6-3.

In the third set, which lasted 74 minutes, MacKay lost his service in the 21st game and gave his unseeded Santa Monica, Calif., foe an 11-10 edge. MacKay was so disgusted he sent his racket whizzing into the backcourt canvas guarding the stands. It barely missed the head of a ball boy and nearly slammed over the canvas into the crowd.

After dropping the third set 10-12, McKay took the fourth 6-3 in 24 minutes without incident. Then in the fifth set, MacKay dropped the first game and again sent his racket crashing to the sidelines, sending the net judge ducking.

Later in the set, after MacKay had won three straight games to move ahead 3-1, he began sniping at one of the backcourt ball boys, 11-year-old Lincoln Kesler.

Finally, he threw a ball toward Kesler. The boy was replaced by another boy. Kesler left the court in tears. From then on, the crowd booed MacKay at every opportunity and applauded when he missed shots.

It was about 100 degrees on the court and the heat, plus MacKay's numerous errors, apparently got the Davis Cup star edgy. He had trouble all the way with his net shots and was visibly disgusted with his play.

Only in the final set did MacKay display his typical booming game. Douglas had MacKay on the ropes with a terrific backhand and sharp sideline shots.

MacKay moves into Sunday's final, meeting Saturday's winner of a match of southpaws between his Davis Cup teammate, defending champion Tut Bartzen, and the Australian Davis Cup star, Rod Laver.

Cubs Offset Four Homers, Beat Milwaukee, 8 To 7

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs made the most of less hits and less homers Friday and handed the Milwaukee Braves an 8-7 loss, their second straight.

The Braves had 11 hits, including home runs by Joe Adcock, Hank Aaron, Eddie Haas and Eddie Mathews. But the Cubs got homers from Ron Santo and Ernie Banks and picked up the victory on nine hits.

The loss dropped Milwaukee two full games behind front-running Pittsburgh which played a night game at San Francisco.

Reliever Joe Schaffernoth came on in the ninth inning to retire Aaron after Haas and Mathews had both homered to drive Don Elston from the mound.

Santo, a 20-year-old rookie third baseman, drove in three runs on a single, double and homer and Ernie Banks homered with a man on.

Elston took over from starter Mark Freeman in the fifth inning and got the Cubs out of a jam. He pitched hitless ball until Aaron slugged his 27th homer with one on in the eighth. Then Elston fell apart in the 90-degree heat when both Haas and Mathews connected in the ninth.

Elston was credited with his sixth victory against four losses and Milwaukee starter Lew Burdette, reached for seven runs before leaving after the fifth inning, suffered his fifth setback against 10 triumphs.

Chicago took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a walk and doubles by Santo and Ed Bouchee, but Milwaukee tied it on Adcock's 15th homer in the second inning and a run in the third on Bill Bruton's single, a stolen base and a single by Mathews.

Milwaukee scored in the third on singles by Burdette, Bruton and Mathews, only to have Elston come in and retire Aaron to end the threat.

Aaron, however, smashed his homer after Mathews had walked in the eighth inning. Aaron extended his hitting streak to 17 consecutive games.

Scorer Sticks To Decision In One-Hitter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The official scorer whose decision meant a one-hitter instead of a no-hitter for Philadelphia pitcher Robin Roberts in Thursday's 3-0 win over San Francisco said Friday he stood firmly by it.

The scorer, James K. McGee, sports writer for the San Francisco News - Call Bulletin, described the action this way:

"In the latest experiment to restore the Giants to the pennant race, (Felipe) Alou got his first hit yesterday.

"Immediately, there was a controversy. It was the only hit off Roberts and it was a strange one.

"With two out in the fifth, he smashed toward third a grounder that not even the light brigade would have charged.

"Neither did the Phillies' third baseman, Joe Morgan. Joe backed up so frantically that he was off balance when the ball slammed into his glove. With the impact, he reeled and sat down. Alou was across first base before Morgan got up.

"There was no throw. The scorer had no alternative but to give Alou a hit."

In the clubhouse, Morgan said: "I'm the goat. I should have charged the ball and got it on the first hop. Isn't there some way they can change the scoring decision now and give me an error?"

McGee said firmly, "No."

Yanks Obtain Luis Arroyo

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees bought Luis Arroyo, left-handed relief pitcher, from the Jersey City Jerseys of the International League Friday. He will join the Yankees at once.

In return for Arroyo, the Jerseys got Zack Monroe, right-handed pitcher now with Richmond, on option plus cash. With Jersey City, Arroyo had a 9-7 record. He had appeared in 39 games. He pitched for St. Louis, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh of the National League at various times since first reaching the majors in 1955.

To make room for Arroyo, the Yankees optioned right-hander John Gabler to Richmond in the International League. Gabler, used mostly in relief over the past month, had a 3-3 record.

Durocher Takes Job In Industry, Mum On Giants

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Leo Durocher, colorful ex-baseball manager and broadcasting executive, Friday was appointed director of West Coast operations for Son-Mark Industries.

The announcement was by Abe Goldman, president of the Philadelphia-based firm which owns and operates about a dozen major stores and industries across the nation.

Durocher, 54, said he would have no comment when asked if his new post would preclude the possibility of his eventually becoming manager of the San Francisco Giants baseball club. He has been mentioned for that job repeatedly in speculative stories by sports writers.

Durocher added: "All I know about that situation (the Giants) is what I read in the newspapers."

He formerly piloted both the Dodgers and Giants when those clubs were in Brooklyn and New York City, respectivley.

Durocher said he will open offices for Son-Mark here.

Albert M. Dukow, treasurer of Son-Mark, said the company has assets in excess of nine million dollars.

45,000-Seat Stadium Gets Miss. Okay

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Memorial Stadium Commission Friday approved plans to rebuild Memorial Stadium here into a 45,000-seat structure suitable for major college football.

The commission, headed by Gov. Ross Barnett, approved plans submitted by Michael Baker Jr. Inc., engineering-architectural firm handling the project to improve the much criticized stadium built by Hinds County. Bids will be opened Aug. 16. Advertisements for bids will appear July 25, Aug. 1, 8 and 15.

A. C. Miller of Jackson, a vice president of the firm,, said work could start about Sept. 1 and would require almost 12 months.

The present stadium has a capacity of 26,000, but was the subject of stinging criticism because of seat arrangement, lighting, pressbox, rest rooms and other features. It has not been used since the Louisiana State-Mississippi State game of 1958.

The commission will have $1,800,000 for the project under a bill passde by the recent Legislature. Hinds County, under the bill, gave the stadium and $900,000 to the state, which put up another $900,000. Both amounts were secured by bonds, which are expected to be retired from stadium revenues.

Miller said the commission planned to have the stadium ready for the Tulane-Mississippi football game in October, 1961.

The plans also call for maximum parking space. About 35 acres are available at the site. The parking construction contract will be let later.

Miller said the salvage value of the present stadium amounted to $500,000. The rebuilt stadium will utilize the playing field, excavation and foundation of the present facility.

IN LOS ANGELES

Patterson Defense Slated For Nov. 1

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP)—Unless foreseen obstacle arise, Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson will fight for the third time Nov. 1.

Bill Fugazy, president of Feature Sports, picked Los Angeles and said he would confer with both fighters as soon as posible to complete the arrangement. He intends to leave for Johansson's home in Sweden Tuesday.

A live gate of one million dollars or more is anticipated. Their second fight in New York June 20, when Patterson regained the title with a fifth-round knockout, drew $824,000 at the gate and grossed $3,549,553 including closed circuit television, radio and movie receipts.

Presumably closed circuit television would be used for the third and rubber match.

Fugazy made no secret he was displeased by what he felt was a lack of police protection at the Polo Grounds in June. Possibly as many as 15,000 fans stormed into the park without paying admission. After the fight started, thousands moved from cheaper seats into more expensive vacant ones.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy took the view it was the duty of policemen to prevent disorder but not to act as ushers or ticket takers. Fugazy should have hired more of these, he declared.

A prime consideration to Fugazy in picking Los Angeles was the weather. Under the terms of the contract, Patterson agreed to give Johansson a rematch within 120 days in the event Patterson won. Nov. 1 doesn't quite meet the 120-day deadline, but that is only a technicality.

However, outside of Los Angeles, it would be hard to find a place that (a) has an enormous area and (b) the virtual assurance of good weather.

Patterson and Johansson first met June 26, 1959, in New York when the underdog Swede won the title when the referee stopped the bout in the third round.

Patterson in taking it back became the first heavyweight ever to regain the crown.

Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott set the precedent for a series of heavyweight championship fights. Charles won the vacant world title in 1949 by defeating Walcott in 15 rounds at Chicago, retained the crown with a 15-round decision at Detroit May 7, 1951, and then lost it to Walcott by a knockout in seven at Pittsburgh July 18, 1957. Walcott retained the title by winning the fourth and last match in 15 rounds in Philadelphia June 5, 1952.

In making the decision to take the bout away from New York and bringing it to Los Angeles, Fugazy said that a $750,000 bid by a group of Texans failed to equal the terms offered in Los Angeles.

Grambling Seeks Grid Cure In Capable Passer

GRAMBLING, La. (Special)—In discussing Grambling's tough 10-game schedule Saturday Coach Eddie Robinson was prompted into an appraisal that the Tigers need a good passing quarterback and a little more insurance in the line to get the promised grid rejuvenation in full swing.

Robbie and his Raiders moved up in expentancy after an excellent spring session, but nobody, the coach most of all, expects the team to give Southwestern Conference foes a heady battle without needed quarterback and line reinforcements.

Considerable line improvement took place in the spring and Robinson allowed that the boys seem "ready to respond appreciably." The team compiled an inept 4-6 mark last year.

Elsewhere, except for the missing figure of All - American Jamie Caleb, who signed with the Cleveland Browns without advance notice, things seem about the same.

Caleb's departure clouds the outlook somewhat, However Robinson feels that a livelier offense and a throwing quarterback will offset the letdown.

Midgets Head Mat Card At B&B Monday

Monday night's wrestling card at B&B Arena offers everything from midgets to Firpo Zybysko with a couple of girls thrown in.

The little men of wrestling, some of the top attractions in the game, will be making their first appearance here in some time. The two who'll perform Monday night are Tiny Rowe and Cowboy Bradley, a couple of willing mixers with good assortments of holds.

Big bad Firpo will take on Ken Cooper. Cooper is still burning to repay Zybysko for what he considers a bad job of officiating the bald Pole turned in here a week or so ago. Ken didn't get any satisfaction last week when he and Bob Morrow battled to an hour - long draw with Firpo and Tony Jiminez. Neither team could gain a fall.

The girls are Nell Stewart and China Mira, a pair of lassies who waste no love on each other. Both were involved in the disputed mixed tag team bout of two weeks ago and have been fuming ever since.

All three bouts share main event billing and are scheduled for an hour or less with two falls to win.

Afternoon Party In Root Home Given To Honor Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Hoyt

Gold and white filled the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Root on Point Drive when Mrs. Root entertained Thursday afternoon complimentary to Mr. Root's sisters, Mrs. Louis S. Daniel and Mrs. Oakley F. Hoyt.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel have recently moved to Monroe from Detroit, Michigan and are making their home on Loop Road. Mrs. Hoyt, a visitor in the city, will be joined by Mr. Hoyt next week before returning to their home in Princeton, New Jersey.

Mrs. Louis S. Daniel Jr. greeted guests at the door, and invited them into the foyer, which was brightened with two arrangements of yew leaves in amber vases. Yellow gladioli, yellow crabapples and euonymus filled a tall gold pedestal on a very low coffee table in the living room, where friends chatted informally. On the raised hearth in the family room was a massive arrangement of pomegranates, guave leaves and berries in a copper and brass container.

Yellow gladioli, white and yellow daisies and yellow marigolds formed a pyramid in an alabaster pedestal placed at one end of the white lace - covered refreshment table in the dining room. Flanking the arrangement were yellow tapers in silver candelabra. Coffee was served by Mrs. Garland Shell and Mrs. Ivy Jordan at the other end of the table.

In the breakfast room was a glass-top table placed in front of gold draperies. Centering the table was a tall gold bottle filled with a hogarth curve arrangement of yellow marigolds, crabapples and greenery. Beside the bottle was its stopper, filled with another arrangement of the same type flowers. Two kinds of punch were served, iced and sherbet, by Mrs. Lawrence Fox and Mrs. W. L. Dean.

Fresh fruit was arranged with leaves and berries in a straw basket in the kitchen, and in a red and white bedroom were red roses and white carnations. Mrs. Luther Branch created all of the floral arrangements in the house, and Mrs. W. H. McFadden prepared the unusual party foods.

Assisting with the courtesies at the party were Mrs. E. J. Seymour Jr., Mrs. John Spalding and Mrs. Mabel Ratliff.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Pool All Income--Have No 'Mine And Thine'

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: Our only child is a son, 19. I don't want to be a mother-in-law. I want to be a mother to the girl Melvin marries. I had trouble with "my" mother-in-law for over 30 years so I know what it's like.

Melvin has been going steady with a nice girl who is just 17. She hasn't finished high school yet. He doesn't have a regular job. He works weekends at a garage and they may put him on full-time in the Fall.

The kids want to get married this summer and have asked us to set them up in housekeeping. For a wedding gift they want five rooms of furniture, including a stove, refrigerator and TV set.

My husband has worked hard all his life and we do have some money saved. We also own a little property but we are not rich. I'm against setting up the kids. My son says we are depriving him of his happiness, and his girl says we are "mean."

Last night when he presented his written list I blew my cork. He said, "What is money for? You can't take it with you."

May I have your views? —MEAN MOTHER

Dear Mother: Tell Melvin you can't take it with you but it's nice to have a little around while you're still here.

Parents who subsidize their teenage kids in marriage do them no favor. The kids merely get a distorted picture of what life is all about. When the sledding gets rough the emotional cripples lean on Pa and Ma and expect to be taken care of.

The biggest favor you can do your son is tell him he can get married when he's able to support a wife and buy his own furniture.

(P.S. Who bought yours?)

Dear Ann: My husband and I both make about the same salary. He gives me his check and I pay all the bills.

He has a second job which brings in a little extra. He uses a car for this job and I never see it. He wants to buy a new car and thinks I should help out with the payments.

We both want to do what's right, but we don't know what right is. Do you think I should help with the car payments, or should he buy this car himself? —ZITA

Dear Zita: Working couples who label money or belongings His and Hers, like bathroom towels, sooner or later run into trouble.

I am strongly in favor of pooling all the income; the less mine and thine the better.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is overseas and I'm living alone in our apartment. I quit my job a few months ago so I could spend as much time as possible with my mother who is very ill.

I have no interest in stepping out on my husband and have every intention of staying true to him. A vicious gossip who lives in this building has spread the word that she had heard someone leave my apartment very early in the morning, "several times a week."

I'm sure if she's heard anything it's my sister who sometimes spends the night with me after we visit mother in the hospital.

Shall I speak to her? How can I defend myself? —DEFAMED

Dear Defamed: Your character and good reputation speak more eloquently than anything you could say. Ignore the woman and don't dignify the gossip by acknowledging it.

Dabbling Wife Has Busy Life

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) —Betty O'Neal is a dabbler.

She dabbles in everything.

As a businesswoman, she operates a shop called "Almost Antiques."

Mrs. O'Neal opened the shop by mere chance. Her home became too small to hold all the plunder she had collected — furniture and bric - a - brac she couldn't bear to see discarded.

"My kids were glad to see me get rid of some of it," she says. "They always said they never dared walk into an unlighted room because nothing ever stayed the same.

"And they always said they'd never have any of this junk. But let me find a good piece now, and you can bet where it goes—straight to one of their homes."

For 10 years after the last war, Mrs. O'Neal dabbled at her best.

The Family and Children's Service called to ask her to become a foster mother. Her husband said "no." Mrs. O'Neal said "yes."

During the 10 years that followed, the O'Neals were foster parents to four babies at a time, a total of 100 babies in all.

Make Sure Camping Is Your Sport

AP Newsfeatures

It's a long, long way from ice cubes and an air - conditioned home to the confines of a tent perched in a park by a canyon.

Many families bridge the gap with effortless ease, and in fact look forward to an annual exposure to the primitive life, as a happy change from civilization.

But others who merely fancy themselves the rugged, outdoor type quickly become disgusted with their trek back to nature.

Camping experts suggest that families do a bit of honest self-examination before they invest in hiking boots and portable stoves.

First, there must be a unanimous — and sincere — family vote to take a camping trip. If even one member is going along just to be pleasant, the whole vacation can be a fiasco. Often, it is the father who dreams of togetherness in the wilds, while his wife is wondering how on earth she can cook and wash without the conveniences of home.

Flexibility is a must for campers. Those who are finicky about their food, demanding about their recreation, fussy about discomfort, don't belong on a camping trip. Even in the best - planned trip, the unexpected has a way of cropping up — which is fun for the spontaneous, but tough on the traditional.

All members of the family must be individually resourceful. There may be long hours of driving, long days of rain and dullness. Tempers become taut unless the campers find ways of their own to pass — and enjoy the time. The naturalist, the reader, the collector, the artist thrive on this free time. Those not so happily endowed are bored.

An advance work - up toward an all - out expedition is helpful, even if it's no more than sleeping in a tent in your own backyard, and producing a meal over an open fire without chaos.

INTRICATE BACK TREATMENT of these chairs designed by Norman Fox MacGregor for Valley is typical of today when it is no longer considered rude for chairs to turn their backs on part of the room. The opening floor plan where many activities may share a single space and where furniture placement alone distinguishes various areas for specific activities, means that sofas, as well as chairs, may jut out into a room and present a rear view.

Backward Appearance Eminently Important

By BETTY PEPIS

Interior designers are taking a backward look today. Oddly enough their interest shows an avant guarde attitude rather than an addiction to history. For the news in upholstered pieces is the interesting impression they make when viewed from the rear.

Usually this takes the form of a shapely wood cradle which cups and decorates an upholstered back. Other times, cane is used and upholstered in the front but not the back. Metal backs, too, present interesting patterns, some times made of solid molded pieces: other times of fret, tightly spaced, in a variety of patterns.

Still other chairs of recent vintage have backs molded by a single piece of plywood and the wood grain as well as the curvilinear shape has a decorative quality. Leather, woven in a basket weave is still another ornamental trick in back. Even on traditional chairs, particularly bergeres of French descent, an attractive fabric differing from that used on the major portion of a chair may afford a change of pace. In a recent decorating job, a paisley pattern trimmed the back, its major color supplying the club for the chair's upholstery.

This trend has evolved along with new attitudes toward furniture arrangement. In many traditional rooms the habit was to line the furniture along the wall. Now with open floor plans seating pieces more and more frequently move out into the room and all four sides are on view.

Such a situation means the silhouette must be shapely as well as the back and front. Which perhaps explains the prevalence of designs in which back and arms flow together in a graceful sweep, or the arm may cantilever out from the back at a precarious but intriguing angle.

Chests and cabinets are also beginning to be affected by this out-in-the-open furniture arrangement. The so - called room divider, a Twentieth Century invention which is open on two sides, is a classic example of this genre. Smaller chests and the kind of cabinet which serves as an end table abutting on a couch are beginning to follow suit and they, too, are finely finished back as well as front.

FUNERAL HOME WEDDING

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Nashville couple began their married life where most people end it — in a funeral home. Rain started falling just as the garden wedding for Shirley Price and Melvin Baker was about to begin. YOUR BABY AND MINE

She Asks If Today's Child More Conceited

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

A reader wonders if children were less conceited years ago than they are today. She asks, "Was that because our parents deplored conceit and talked against it? Or is it because today's parents are so busy encouraging self-confidence that it ends up being conceit? I wish you would write something in your column on this subject."

We have to develop self-confidence in children because there are so many ways in which their natural confidence is shattered. Children have to meet the competition in play and in school of other children and of sisters and brothers. They have to try to live up to the high standards which parents erect for them.

The natural differences in children are so openly exploited — the beautiful children, the gifted children, the skilled ones — that these tend to deflate the less gifted child's ego and leave him a prey to feelings of unimportance and inferiority.

BALANCE

So parents do well to try to balance these influences by playing up any talents or skills or happy accidents of looks which the child may possess. The result may make the child temporarily more "cocky," which, in a way, mirrors his real inner lack of assurance as well as his childish inability to conceal what he may be feeling.

The expression of conceit always is distasteful to an adult. We dislike to see anyone acting in a vain manner, or have anyone brag about their own gifts and talents. We consider it to be better manners if they leave the expression of their superiorities to others. It remains for the parents to give the child self-confidence and still counsel him to be "modest" about his accomplishments.

Perfect manners are not expected of a child in any area so we should be tolerant of his small airs and his assumption of superiority.

We can take it for granted, too, that his parents will be less critical of his bragging than will outsiders because they are overjoyed at the efforts he makes which he can crow about.

But just because the outsider is critical makes it necessary for parents to watch the growth of this excessive self-confidence and appreciation of self and not let it run out of bounds. The child does not need to be cut down to size but he can be told that the more admirable his looks, behavior or talents, the less necessary it is for him to shout about them. They speak eloquently for themselves.

Our 10-cent booklet on "Obedience and Discipline" may be had by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Scans Runways In Search Of Mongrel Dog

NEW YORK (UPI)—Detroit engineer Hank Ludwig tramped the runways of New York International Airport for the ninth consecutive day Friday in search of Sausie, his mongrel dog.

Sausie, who understands only Portuguese, jumped from the Cargo compartment of a Varig airliner that brought Ludwig, his wife, Amy, and their 14-year-old daughter, Paula home July 11 from a five-year stay in Brazil.

The mongrel, which Ludwig described as looking "a lot like a dachshund," leaped from the plane shortly after it landed and bounded away. Ludwig saw him once last Tuesday, but his shouts to the frightened animal went unheeded.

Ludwig has posted a $100 reward for the return of Sausie and has spent $200 in hotel bills while searching for him. He said the vigil for Sausie has been "the most frustrating experience of my life."

Mrs. Ludwig and Paula went on to Detroit with orders to Ludwig not to come home "until you find Sausie—no matter how long it takes." They are staying with Mrs. Ludwig's sister, Mrs. Sadie Wold, of 1151 Nottingham St., Detroit.

Ludwig said he would have to find the dog by this weekend or give up the search. He has to go to work for the Burroughs Corp., the same firm that employed him in South America.

"I told Paula not to worry, because I would bring the dog back," Ludwig said. "I made a promise and I don't want to flop. When my daughter left she was crying because she thinks the world of that dog."

Ludwig said that when the family first arrived in Brazil, Sausie was Paula's only playmate until she learned to speak Portuguese.

He said the day Sausie ran away "I could see he was so confused and scared that he didn't know what to do."

Woman Leads Texas Docs' Association

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Dr. May Owen, chief pathologist for Terrell Laboratories, is the first woman to become president of the Texas Medical Association.

A white-haired career woman, Dr. Owen holds degrees from Texas Christian University and the Louisville Medical School.

An honorary degree was in recognition of her discovery that a powder once used on surgical gloves was causing infections when it fell into an incision. Dr. Owen's research resulted in the development of a new, safe absorbent powder.

She was born on a Falls County, Tex. farm before the turn of the century, one of seven children. Dr. Owen developed an interest in medicine as a child, and went on to study at TCU and Louisville, and to do graduate work at the Mayo Clinic and Bellevue Hospital, New York.

Dr. Owen returned to her native state in 1928 to work as a pathologist at Fort Worth's Terrell Laboratories. In 1951, she was named one of the outstanding women of Texas.

Her devotion to medical service was recognized again in 1951 when fellow doctors gave her a "gold headed cane," symbolic of service to the medical profession.

Body Found In Desert Identified

CAIRO (UPI)—U.S. Embassy officials said Thursday that Egyptian officials have identified a body found in the Nubian Desert where two American and two French students disappeared last year as that of Donald Shannon, of Milwaukee, Wis.

The body, found with three others previously identified as the other students, had been thought to be that of the Nubian guide who accompanied them.

The embassy said Egyptian authorities have issued a death certificate on the body in Shannon's name. It followed an investigation by embassy officials and a Navy dentist who came here with dental plates made for Shannon when he was in the Air Force. They identified the teeth from the exhumed body as those belonging to Shannon.

The new identification solved the question of what had happened to Shannon but posed a new mystery of whether the Nubian guide was still alive and had been responsible for Shannon's death.

There were indications that a grim struggle took place between Shannon and the guide in the desert wilderness in a fight over the last of the party's water. The other American student was John Armstrong, of Belleville, N.J.

Last October, four decomposed bodies were found within walking distance of the Sudanese border which was the expedition's goal after it set out to cross Africa in two small cars last July.

When the bodies were found, it was assumed that Shannon might have escaped death and crossed the border.

The investigation was reopened last month when Shannon's parents appealed to the State Department.

Roman Catholic funeral services were held Friday in Cairo for Shannon.

Ted Price Chairman Of Highways

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' new state board of highways Friday elected Ted W. Price of Lake Charles chairman but put off any decision on the director's post.

In an organizational meeting, after an earlier closed session, the board officers were elected.

Otto Candies of Des Allemands was named vice chairman.

Price declined to comment on reports that the board might name James H. (Buddy) Gill of Baton Rouge, as director.

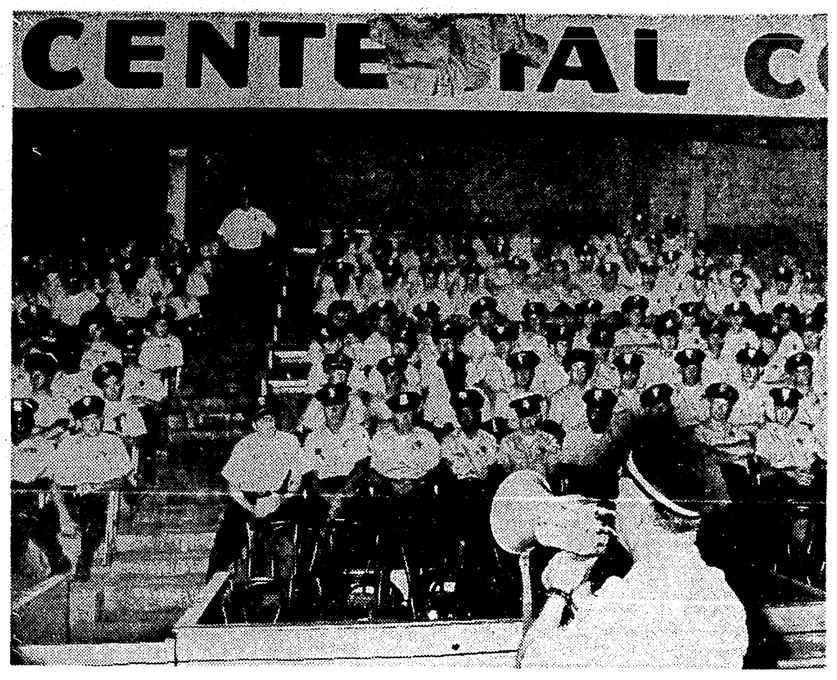

Gill, who was a Davis campaign leader, once was aide for Sen. Russell Long. Gill said he knew nothing of the reports.

Highway director R. B. Richardson, veteran of several administrations, gave the board a description of the department's executive setup and suggested it needed to approve some routine expropriations proceedings. The board gave the approval.

The Louisiana Police Jury Assn. has urged Davis to retain Richardson.

Davis named the new constitutional board after former members resigned at his request or were addressed out of office when they wouldn't quit.

The new members will tour their eight districts and meet again in about two weeks at Price's suggestion to get acquainted.

POLICE CAPT. Terrance Doherty uses an electric megaphone to give instructions to a group of police who will be assigned to duty at the Republican National Convention in Chicago next week. Group is pictured in International Amphitheatre where delegates will meet Monday. Over their heads is a large sign proclaiming this convention as the Lincoln Centennial Convention. Lafayette Youth Dies In Wreck

OPELOUSAS, La. (AP) — An 19-year-old Lafayette youth was killed early Friday when he lost control of his car after a tire blew out traveling more than 100 miles per hour.

State troopers identified the youth as Charles W. Giessler. Trooper Kenneth Ardoin said he was driving south on highway 93 when the tire blew out and the car rammed through a ditch and two fences.

Giessler died of a broken neck, police said.

Lawrence Mathia of Lafayette, a passenger in the car, reportedly fell under the dashboard when he saw the car was going out of control and escaped injury.

POLITICS IN THEIR BLOOD

Here's How They Become Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The delegates you watch whooping it up at the national political conventions usually got to them by working in the precincts and stringing along with the right people.

They not only get no pay for their services, but in most cases have to dig deep into their own bankrolls to pay for their transportation, their hotels, meals and other expenses.

But to men with politics in their blood, its worth it to be right in the middle of the convention floor excitement, bumped, badgered and—at times—bewildered.

So it was at the Democratic convention in Los Angeles. So it will be when the Republicans gather at Chicago next week.

For all the fun and excitement they afford at the quadrennial outings for the politicians, big and little, doubts are being expressed in some quarters as to the wisdom of holding them at all.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), a vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, suggested only this week that the conventions are a legacy from "the dead hand of the past" and that it would be better to substitute national primaries and let the people really choose their own nominees.

But politicians are the last folks in the world to abandon anything so traditional and the chances are the conventions with "much hoopla and sign-waving shenanigans"—to quote Mansfield—will continue for years to come.

Americans who follow convention proceedings are becoming increasingly familiar with "the caucus"—the traditional vehicle by which politicians get things done.

A caucus is a meeting of delegates to decide how they will vote on nominees or policies when they go into the convention itself.

The delegates in some states are bound in advance, by primaries or state conventions, to vote for a specific man for nominee. But even in some of these the delegates may change the decision once they reach the convention and size up the potential strength of the opposing candidates. They can hold the caucus in a smoke-filled hotel room or right out on the convention floor.

The decision of the caucus may—like primaries or state conventions—bind all of a state's delegates to vote as a unit, that is, commit all the state's delegates to one candidate, or it may permit the delegates to split their votes among many.

There is no uniformity at all. If you are confused, don't worry, for Sen. Manfield, who has been attending conventions for a long, time, pointed up the confusion in his statement.

In pleading for a uniform system, he said: "We need to ask why some states vote as a unit, and some states do not, why some primaries are binding on the delegates and some are not, why delegates from some states have only half a vote and some a full vote."

On the latter question, there will be no half votes in the Republican convention. On the Democratic side, a number of states give each delegate half a vote in order to permit the selection of twice as many delegates to share in whatever glory attaches to going to a convention.

Originally the number of delegates at each of the conventions corresponded to the membership of Congress—that is, each state had a delegate for each of its members in the House and Senate.

But the parties have changed the rules, the Democrats pursuing a more liberal course with 1,521 delegate votes, the Republicans limiting theirs to 1,331.

Lincoln Gavel Will Be Used

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)— A gavel used in the convention 100 years ago which nominated Abraham Lincoln is being sent to Chicago to open this year's Republican conclave.

The gavel, made from oak from Admiral Perry's flagship, belongs to George A. Morton of New Haven, descendant of a delegate to the 1860 convention. The gavel is insured for $10,000.

It is being sent to Chicago Sunday with the Connecticut delegation.

Exchange Shots

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Syrian and Israeli troops exchanged shots Friday morning on Israel's northern frontier, an Israeli spokesman said.

North Koreans Charge 3 Men Killed By U.S.

PANMUNJOM, (UPI)—Communist North Korea charged Friday that a U.S. vessel machinegunned a North Korean fishing boat Tuesday, killing three fishermen, and wounding two.

The Reds also charged that one fisherman was kidnaped.

The accusation was made at the 212th meetig of the secretaries of the Military Armistice Commission (MAC).

CO. Harry S. Messec, United Nations Command Secretary of MAC, said "I have little doubt that this charge will prove to be another fabrication intended to discredit and slander the U.N.C. side." He promised an investigation.

The Reds charged that the fishing boat was attacked after it grounded due to an ebb tide.

Abolish Taxes

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has abolished taxes for factory and office workers who earn up to 500 rubles—$125—a month, the Soviet news agency Tass reports.

Northeast Gets Membership In National Group

Northeast Louisiana State College has been accepted for membership in the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

A majority of state universities and most of the major private institutions are members of the association, which puts emphasis on the development of the student as a person rather than on his intellectual training alone.

Membership is limited to four - year, degree - granting institutions recognized by the appropriate regional accrediting agency.

Colleges are represented in the association by those primarily concerened with student - personnel programs. The association's stated purpose is to discuss and study the most effective methods of aiding students in their intellectual, social, moral and personal development.

The association was founded in 1919 as the National Association of Deans and Advisers of Men. In 1951 it adopted the present title.

'Melon Cutting' Slated Monday On NE Campus

Division and department heads at Northeast Louisiana State College will serve slices of watermelons instead of lectures to students at the college's annual "melon cuttin" Monday morning.

Top members of the administration and faculty will slice and serve some 325 cold Calhoun melons beginning at 9:30 a.m. The 50 - minute break in the school's summer class routine will take place on the bank of Bayou DeSiard near the president's home.

Monday's class schedule has been rearranged to permit everyone at the college to attend the watermelon party, for which several tons of melons have been shipped in from Calhoun.

Students, faculty and staff have been invited to attend.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures closed 15 cents a bale lower to 20 cents higher Friday.

Nearby months were easy under the influence of favorable crop prospects.

Distant months held steady as commission House buying found offerings light. The feature in that section of the market was a switching operation between December and March, involving 5,000 bales of cotton

The U.S. Department of Agriculture issued an authorization of $28.000,000 to Poland to buy approximately 185.000 bales of cotton.

The Census Bureau reported June cotton consumption totaled 657,773 running bales. This was about in line with trade expectations.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Cotton futures were inactive here Friday. Closing bid prices were 20 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower.

CHICAGO (AP)—Butcher hog prices held at their highest peak in more than 18 months Friday although the market generally was steady to 25 cents lower.

A relatively few head of 190-215 lb No. 1 and 2 grades brought the $19 top for the second day with trade slow and shipper demand poor.

Mixed 1-2 ad mixed 1-3 grades scaling 190-220 lbs cleared at $18.50-18.85, the 190-240 lb lots of 1-3 and 2-3 grades $18-18.50 and heavier weights at $17.25 and up. Sows were steady to weak and topped at $16.75.

Grain

CHICAGO (AP)—A late burst of buying sent soybean futures sharply higher again Friday on the Board of Trade and boosted all new crop months to their highest levels of the season.

It was the third successive broad gain for soybean and the second in which they posted new highs. Total gains for the three days ran to well over four cents a bushel on the November contract.

After losing a little ground in early transactions on scattered profit taking, short covering reversed the trend which gathered speed rapidly in the early afternoon.

Some of the demand was linked with a steady to firmer market for soybean meal and soybean oil and a moderate volume of export business but traders said the strength was related mainly to the heat wave over the Midwest.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel lower, September $1.83¾-7⅛; corn lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.16¾; oats unchanged to ½ higher, September 69⅜-¼; rye ¼-¾ higher, September $1.17¾; soybeans ½-2⅛ higher, September $2.15⅛-14¾.

Sugar Mill Is Seized By Cuba Regime

HAVANA (UPI) — The Castro regime seized the third and last of the Cuban-America Company's sugar mills valued at $80 million Friday. Sugar men predicted the sweep eventually would include all sugar mills and land in Cuba, including the 37 American-owned mills.

A fourth mill, Cuban owned, also was taken over by government "intervention" Friday.

The American mills, were the Cuban-American company's of Delicias Chappara and Mercedita, valued at approximately $80 million. Total value of all American owned mills is estimated to be $200 million. The Cuban mill was Narcisa in Las Villas Province.

INTERVENTION

The seizures were made official by a government decree announcing the "intervention" of the four mills and all rights and properties of company including its Havana headquarters. Castro and the president of his Agrarian Reform Institute Antonio Nunez Jimenez signed the decree.

The sugar mill seizures, expected as reprisals since president Eisenhower slashed the Cuban sugar quota on July 6, followed the pattern of the seizure of the American-owned Esso company and Texas company petroleum refineries.

The revolutionary government now controls 45 of the 161 mills on the island. The government announced along with the seizures that it expected to take more than 300 sugar cooperatives —from the privately owned sugar lands seized during the past year—by next Tuesday in honor of the July 26 celebration honoring the birth of the revolutionary movement.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

By United Press International

STEEL

Both steel users and producers anticipate that steel demand probably will start picking up steam late in the third quarter, but are fearful that prices will start rising at the same time, a survey of corporate purchasing agents showed Friday.

The auto industry is the most pessimistic about the future of steel prices. Purchasing Week magazine said. Auto officials feel steel will go up $2 to $4 a ton when they start placing heavy orders for the 1961 model run.

LIVING COST

The cost of living hit a record high in June for the fourth consecutive month. But a government spokesman said there is a good chance it is leveling off this month and will decline in August. The Labor Department's index inched up one-fifth of 1 per cent from May to June, primarily on higher prices on pork, fruit and gasoline.

CUBAN SUGAR

The Cuban government announced the signing of an intervention decree covering all three mills owned by the Cuban-American Sugar Co. and all properties, belongings and rights of the company including its Havana headquarters. Thursday the government announced plans to take over the company's two major mills valued at $75 million.

Sharp Loss Is Taken By Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took another sharp loss Friday as blue chips continued to sag badly. Trading was moderate.

The reduced steel output was reflected by many drastic cuts in second quarter earnings. In addition, a profit squeeze in various companies was demonstrated by declines in net income despite boosts in sales.

Losses throughout the list ranged mostly from fractions to about a point. Some leading issues posted gains.

The market was mixed at the start, showing temporary resistance to further decline as an assortment of high quality issues posted modest gains. Slight selling pressure built up, however, and buying interest was so poor that wide losses resulted. The market steadied above its lows for a couple of hours in the afternoon, then slid to about its worst of the day by the final bell.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 6.76 to 609.87 for its tenth straight daily loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 1.80 to 214.00 with the industrials off 3.20, the rails off .90 and the utilities off .50.

An estimated $2,400,000,000 was clipped from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the AP average.

Volume rose slightly to 2,850,000 shares from Thursday's 2,510,000, still remaining far below average for 1960.

Of 1,202 issues traded, 305 advanced and 668 declined. New highs for the year totaled 15 and new lows 123.

American Stock Exchange prices declined with volume at 930,000 shares compared with 920,000 Thursday.

Corporate bonds rose slightly in quiet trading. U.S. governments declined for the first time in two weeks. Dealings were light.

Volume totaled $4,600,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange compared with $4,180,000 Thursday.

Half Century Of Scouting Is Celebrated

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A half-century of scouting in America was marked Friday by a colorful flag-raising ceremony which officially opened the fifth national Boy Scout Jamboree.

A new U. S. flag with 50 stars was lofted, and the nation's chief scout executive lighted 50 electric candles on a giant birthday cake 26 feet in diameter and 20 feet high.

While 56,000 thrilled youngsters stood at attention, the flags of the states were raised in the order they entered the union.

D. Arthur A. Schuck of Short Hill, N. J., chief scout executive, presided.

A Texas scout who almost didn't make the Jamboree — Jerome David Silver, 14, of Wichita Falls —was honored at another ceremony for saving a child's life from a Denver lake Wednesday.

"Gosh, this is the greatest thing in my life," said Jerome after Dr. Schuck congratulated him.

The youngster had been visiting his grandmother in Denver when he pulled the child to safety. He became Dr. Schuck's personal guest at the encampment.

A 120-boy band from Indianapolis played.

It took more than an hour today for the youngsters, still amazed at the breath-taking view of Colorado's front range of the Rocky Mountains, to file into a natural amphitheater facing a 320-foot stage. Bearers of flaming torches kindled a huge simulated campfire on the stage.

Then a pageant tracing the growth of America from 1492 was staged by the scouts themselves. Among those taking part were hundreds from foreign countries. Gov. Steve McNichols of Colorado welcomed the scouts.

Airplane Loses 2 Landing Gear Doors In N.J.

LAKE HOPATCONG, N. J. (UPI)—A Lufthansa German airliner lost two landing gear doors while flying over this area Thursday night. One of the doors landed in the backyard of a summer bungalow, narrowly missing eight children who were playing nearby.

A tire blowout knocked the doors off the plane, a super constellation which was being ferried to Toronto, thirteen minutes after it left New York's Idlewild airport. None of the crew was injured and the plane returned to Idlewild. No passengers were aboard.

Soviet Union Erased From Congo Scene

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Western private enterprise and the United Nations appear to have erased the Soviet Union from the Congo picture.

The Soviet Union already had taken her place within the United Nations picture instead of outside it when Premier Patrice Lumumba announced the Congo had signed a big deal with an international development company, headed by an American, to get going on power and mining developments.

Then the Congolese leader hopped a plane for America with the promoter of the Congo International Management Corp. to seek additional economic, technical and medical aid in the United States and Canada.

His original intention for the trip, to demand immediate evacuation of Belgian troops, had been forestalled during Thursday night by the U.N. resolution asking Belgium for speedy withdrawal. Lumumba could expect the Council to go no further.

This resolution, merely asking for greater speed in Belgium's observance of a July 14 resolution, was agreed to by the Soviet Union after it became obvious she was getting nowhere with her own insistence on immediate withdrawal and her threat of military intervention.

Lumumba's attitude had been unstable day to day in a highly chaotic situation. He obviously thought he could play the Soviet Union against the West.

The Premier's enthusiasm about the development deal, however, and his mention of other offers of economic help, make it appear that he has decided where his bread and butter lies.

First inquiries in New York failed to produce much information on L. E. Detwiler, the American promoter of the development deal, who was accompanying Lumumba to America. All that was known about it came from Lumumba.

The Premier, however, accompanied his announcement of the deal with an apparent acceptance of the U.N. position and comment that Soviet troops would not be needed.

The deal has had its political effect, regardless of how it turns out financially.

Lumumba even had a few kind words to say for the Belgians.

He obviously felt that his boat had reached calmer waters—and they were Western waters.

He may have taken some heart from the Security Council's reminder that the Congo had been admitted to the United Nations as a unit, which read like a slap at secessionists within the country. But secessionism remained a cause for nightmares during his American visit.

12TH IN 10 YEARS

America Expells Soviet Diplomat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United states Friday expelled another Soviet diplomat—the 12th in 10 years — on grounds he arranged for aerial photographs of American cities and defense installations.

The State Department ordered the immediate departure of Petr Y. Ezhov, 39, Soviet Embassy third secretary because he "flagrantly abused his diplomatic status by engaging in espionage activity."

This development came on the first day in several that has not brought strongly-worded U. S. protests against Soviet cold war maneuvers.

Ezhov, a smooth-talking press aide, arranged for an unidentified pilot to photograph selected sites from a private plane. While under close FBI surveillance, Ezhov paid more than a thousand dollars, the department said, to the pilot for the systematic aerial survey.

The department would not identify the flying photographer by name or nationality or say what action, if any, is planned against him.

Authoritative informants said most of the aerial photographs were taken along the East Cost—some of them about the time Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was in this country on a goodwill visit last September.

Soviet diplomats are forbidden to acquire such aerial photographs. Regulations forbidding this activity went into effect five years ago to retaliate for similar restrictions against American diplomats in Moscow.

Ezhov apparently carried on operations of another Soviet diplomat, Vladimir F. Glinsky, an assistant embassy naval attache, who orgnized the project several years ago.

Glinsky left for Moscow, informants said, before his role in the espionage work was detected. But Ezhov, as his successor, was carefully watched by FBI agents for months before enough evidence was collected to crack down on him.

He paid for flying lessons for a photographer involved in the work and hinted the Russians would buy him his own plane so he could carry out further aerial reconnaissance.

Photographs taken included U.S. Navy installations and what the department described as "other intelligence targets."

The department said it did not anticipate that the Soviet Union would retaliate for the expulsion by ordering an American diplomat in Moscow to leave. Seven U.S. diplomats in the Soviet capital have been expelled on spy charges in the past 10 years.

Schedule Visit

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka said Friday he plans to visit the United States in mid-September for talks and to attend the U. N. Assembly session starting Sept. 20.

Boy Dies Of Head Injury

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Eleven-year-old Darrell Lynn Cambre was eagerly awaiting his turn at bat Thursday and rushed up as the batter swung.

The bat struck Darrell a sharp blow on the head but he did not tell his family until much later. When he began to complain of a headache, he was taken to a hospital where he died Friday.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cambre.

Orders Withdrawal

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The government has ordered withdrawal of recognition from Socialist and Communist trade unions which sponsored the central government employes strike in mid-July. The strike ended in failure after five days.
